Birmingham Board Closes 3 Schools

STANDING AT EASE but with bayonet unsheathed, a well-equipped Birmingham, Ala., policeman watches segregationist pickets carry signs protesting integration of formerly all-white West Side High School. Two negro students were scheduled to start classes today. (UPI Telephoto)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—The bombing of a Negro leader's home and a wild outbreak of racial violence marked by the fatal shooting of another Negro led to a temporary postponement today of Birmingham's public school desegregation.

Gov. George C. Wallace moved back into the picture with an early morning announcement that the city Board of Education had agreed to close three schools ordered integrated by the federal courts. They opened for registration Wednesday and classes were scheduled today.

An explosion heard two miles away broke a calm of several hours after two Negroes had enrolled at one of the schools.

The home of Arthur Shores had been bombed again—the second time in three weeks.

Screaming Negroes in the neighborhood rushed to the home of the attorney who has been a leader for years in the fight of his race against segregation. Police riot squads poured in.

Rock throwing by the resentful Negroes followed, then gunfire by officers as a melee involving hundreds of Negroes and scores of city and county policemen raged for more than an hour.

John L. Coley, 20, fell with three bullets in his head and body. He died later at a hospital.

At least 20 other persons were injured, two of them Negroes also struck by bullets. The injured included four policemen.

Wallace's announcement from the executive mansion at Montgomery, made through an aide on the scene here, came at 4:20 a.m.

State troopers went on guard with other officers around Birmingham schools early today for the first time. City and county officers had handled the assignment Wednesday.

More than 40 bombings have occurred in Birmingham since 1947, many of them in "Dynamite Hill," a Negro community once densely populated by whites.

Constance Baker Motley, an attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said legal action might be taken to reopen the schools.

"We will probably do something in the next couple hours," she said.

The attorney gave no indication as to what moves might be made.

The areas near West End and Ramsay high schools, which were to have been integrated today, were quiet.

No crowds gathered and only a few students, who apparently had not heard about the order closing the schools, attempted to pass the lines of policemen and state troopers. They were turned back.

Officers, stationed about 20 feet apart, lined both sides of the streets around the schools. They were armed with carbines.

There are Negro residential districts near both of the high schools.

Soon after the outbreak was

Reservation On Test Ban To Be Asked

Goldwater Claims It's Peace Peril As Treaty Stands

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., demanded today a formal reservation postponing the effectiveness of the limited nuclear test ban treaty until the Soviets remove their military forces from Cuba.

Goldwater, regarded as a potential candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, said he would offer such a reservation after the Senate takes up the treaty next week.

If the Senate adopts a formal reservation, it might require renegotiation of the treaty. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted 16-1 last week to recommend ratification without any reservation.

In a speech prepared for the Senate, Goldwater declared that as it now stands, the treaty is "a potential peril to peace rather than a step toward it."

Goldwater has been a frequent critic of the treaty, but administration forces say they are confident the Senate will approve the pact overwhelmingly.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., said today he thinks no more than five Republican votes will be cast against ratification.

Charges Due Against 10 In Tax Violation

Ten more charges will be filed today in Municipal Court against seven individuals and three businesses, alleging violation of the city income tax law, D. G. Wilkinson, tax commissioner, said this morning.

Wilkinson said he expects to file the affidavits early this afternoon, clearing the way for preparation of summonses directing the defendants to appear in court. The action today will bring to 30 the number charged with tax violations in the last few weeks.

One businessman will be charged with failure to file a final return on 1962 income; another will be accused of failing to declare his income for 1963 and the third will be accused of failure to file either a final 1962 return or an estimate of his 1963 income, Wilkinson said.

If any of the prospective defendants complies with the law by 4 this afternoon, the charge will be withdrawn, Wilkinson said.

In the earlier prosecutions, virtually all of the defendants made arrangements to pay the amounts allegedly due and won dismissal of the charges. In many instances, the payments were made between the time the action was filed and the date it was set for hearing.

In income tax cases, defendants are served with a summons that directs them to appear on a date specified by the court. They are not served with warrants requiring arrest, as is the case in virtually all other criminal charges. No bond is required for appearance.

The court will set the hearing dates after the affidavits are filed. The summonses will be served by Bailiff Wilbert P. Taylor. The court makes it a practice not to release the names of the defendants until the summonses have been served.

City Man, Companion Due At Prison Farm

Gary Risher, 24, of East Liverpool and Dennis K. Neely, 22, of Madison, Ohio, who fled Ohio's Grafton Prison Farm in Lorain County and figured in the slaying of a Midland patrolman when they were captured Aug. 19, are due for return to the institution — with a one-year workhouse term hanging over their heads when they are released by Ohio authorities.

Prosecutor Richard Steward Wednesday in Beaver County Court accepted their guilty pleas — Risher to a charge of carrying a deadly weapon and his companion to charges of aggravated assault and battery and carrying a deadly weapon, and they were given the workhouse terms.

Sgt. George Tepovich and another Midland officer arrested the pair on a tip and a search revealed Neely was carrying a dagger-like weapon. However, as they were being taken to the station Neely pulled out another knife and in a struggle slashed the sergeant on the leg.

Plane Victims Mourned Worst Airline Disaster In Switzerland History

DUERRENAESCH, Switzerland (AP)—Switzerland today mourned for victims of its worst airline disaster, a crash that killed 80 persons, including almost a complete generation of the farming village of Humlikon.

"This is worse than a war," said a farmer in Humlikon after being informed that his parents were among the 43 passengers from his village killed when a Swissair twin-jet Caravelle from Zurich exploded and crashed in fog Wednesday. All 74 passengers and six crewmen were killed.

Humlikon lost about one-fifth of its 217 population. The community also lost its mayor and all councilmen.

With the other villagers, they were heading to Geneva to visit an agricultural experiment station.

For many of the villagers, it was their first flight. There were 19 married couples among them. They left 40 orphans.

Despair and disbelief hung over

Humlikon. No children played. Red-eyed adults conversed in whispers.

Said Gottfried Meisterhans, 28, whose parents perished in the disaster: "This is terrible. This is worse than war because it wiped out virtually a whole generation."

"My parents wanted so badly to make this flight. I would have loved to go too, but my parents thought I and my wife would have more chances to fly. So we agreed that they make the trip. This is fate."

"What shall we do now? How can people be able to continue here? All fields are worked by the families themselves. None has a farm hand."

Nothing resembling a human body was found after the $3-million French-built airliner, bound for Geneva and Rome, plowed into a grassy field on the outskirts of Duerrnaesch. Blasting a crater 18 feet deep, it disintegrated. The biggest piece of wreckage found was a six-foot section of one wing.

Among the dead was one American, Emerson Glauner Jr., 36, of Rockton, Ill. Glauner, a divisional sales manager of the Beloit Corp., manufacturer of papermaking machinery, was on his way to a paper mill in France.

Six foreigners and 68 Swiss made up the passenger list. All the crew members were Swiss.

The crash occurred eight minutes after the plane had taken off and shortly after the pilot had radioed a "Mayday" disaster signal and desperately cried "No more! No more!"

Rumors circulated that the plane may have been sabotaged after some witnesses said it disintegrated in the air. But Col. Karl Hoegger of the Swiss Federal Air Office said evidence collected so far appeared to rule out foul play.

"But," he added, "of course I cannot prove this."

Ball Slates Final Appeal To Pakistan Wants It To Stay With West And Shy Away From China

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP)—Undersecretary of State George Ball made a final attempt today to persuade President Mohammed Ayub Khan to stay firmly on the West's side in the cold war and shy away from Red China.

U.S. sources said Ball had again assured Ayub that the United States would protect Pakistan against aggression from any quarter. But they reported he has failed to quiet Pakistan's fear of Indian attack or ally resentment over U.S. military aid to India, Pakistan's neighbor and old enemy.

This has been the major topic in the talks Ball has conducted for the past three days.

After the final meeting with the president, Ball flies back to Washington.

President Kennedy sent Ball to Pakistan, an ally in two defense pacts and recipient of Western military aid, to learn its intentions in recent moves toward the Chinese Communists.

The United States has been concerned over Pakistani-Chinese border, trade and air transport agreements, all negotiated since the Chinese Communists attacked India last fall.

Washington believes Pakistan's fear of Indian aggression has no basis in fact, U.S. sources said.

Bridge Worker Dies In Plunge Of 40 Feet

BEAVER — Dr. John Colavincenzo, Beaver county coroner, has ruled the death of Joseph Scrivo in a bridge fall Wednesday was an accident.

Mr. Scrivo, 40, of Beaver Falls, fell about 40 feet from the bridge under construction over the Beaver River between Beaver Falls and Eastvale.

Authorities said he apparently slipped while carrying a plank, walking backwards, and fell to the railroad tracks.

Estimates Revised By U.S. Military

Extended American Involvement Seen In Troubled Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The political and religious turbulence rocking South Viet Nam has caused some key U.S. military men to revise their estimates and predict a longer anti-Communist war — and probably a longer American involvement.

Past predictions that victory over Red guerrillas might be achieved in three years or so were based largely on an assumption of political stability in South Viet Nam.

Some knowledgeable officers considered that time estimate optimistic, even before the Saigon government began repressing Buddhists last May.

Meanwhile, Secretary of the Army Cyrus Vance is about to leave on a two-week Pacific area tour which will take him to South Viet Nam about the middle of the month.

He will be the first top civilian official from the Pentagon to visit South Viet Nam since the Buddhist troubles broke out.

Some consideration was given to striking South Viet Nam from Vance's itinerary because of the delicate situation which finds the government of President Ngo Dinh Diem in conflict with U.S. policy.

Apparently the matter has been resolved in favor of Vance's going to Saigon—but informed authorities indicated he will confine himself to a military inspection and avoid any public comments on the Vietnamese political-religious crisis.

Present plans call for Vance to leave Sunday and stop at Hawaii, Okinawa, Korea, Formosa, Viet Nam and briefly in Japan, where he has been invited to confer with defense officials.

Although Vance ostensibly will pay attention chiefly to the U.S. Army and its activities in Viet Nam, he is expected to give Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara a report on his impressions of the difficult situation there.

While outwardly optimistic about the course of the war to suppress the Communists, McNamara has stressed it will be a long, hard struggle.

Adm. Harry D. Felt, the U.S. commander in the Pacific, told a news conference last January that he was willing to stand on a prediction of victory in South Viet Nam in three years.

The factors usually cited as hopeful included an increasing rate of defections from the Communist guerrillas, capture of more Red weapons, higher casualties among the Communists, and the building of thousands of new fortified hamlets to protect the peasants.

But some authorities said that while intelligence has improved there is no reliable way of knowing how many new men the Communists have sent into South Viet Nam or to what extent the Reds have been able to replace lost weapons.

Also, it was said, there is evidence that some areas believed regained from the Communists have not stayed that way—that the peasants backslid when government forces moved on.

Tran Van Chuong, South Viet Nam's former ambassador to the United States, told The Associated press. He said, "of course I cannot prove this."

In St. Clair Area

Regional Water Plan Authorized

Establishment of a regional water and sewer district for a 14-square mile area of St. Clair Township was authorized at a preliminary hearing this morning by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard at Lisbon.

The action clears the way for further formation of a district Board of Trustees to plan for providing a water supply and sewage disposal system for the area, which includes Calcutta and Glenmoor sections.

THE NEW district is to be called "The Southeastern Water and Sewer District."

No opponents to the formation of the district appeared at the hearing this morning, and Judge Buzzard said that from his own knowledge, he feels the project is necessary due to growth of housing developments in the area.

John Duffy of Calcutta, president of the St. Clair Township Development Association, spoke in support of the district's formation.

He declared the residents of the area have been working for several years for a public water system. He explained the underground water level has dropped because of the increasing amount of wells which deplete the subsurface water, and said county health officials have indicated some water sources are "bacteriologically unsafe."

OTHERS attending the hearing were County Commissioners Walter Hunston, Galen Greenisen and James Boyd, along with George Bloomgren, East Liverpool engineer, and Harry Stockdale of East Liverpool, county sanitarian.

County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw presented the petitioner's case to the court.

Judge Buzzard said he hopes the new group would proceed according to regular legal methods, and he granted the new dis-

Courts To Get Party Dispute On Job Status

Mandamus Studied Asking Removal Of Road Supervisor

The County Democratic Executive Committee is considering forcing a mandamus action to force the removal of Chester Whitehouse of East Palestine as Columbiana County supervisor for the State Highway Department on the grounds he is engaged in political activity while holding a Civil Service job, Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county chairman, said today.

Although Whitehouse resigned Tuesday night as East Palestine Council president, the Democratic committee's case is based on the fact the Republican's name appears on the Nov. 5 general election ballot as a candidate for the same post, Gosney said.

The committee is contemplating a mandamus action against the State Department of Personnel to force it to remove Whitehouse from the provisional appointment, he added. There has been discussion whether the legal action should be filed in Franklin County (Columbus), where State Highway Department payrolls are issued, or in the Columbiana County Common Pleas Court at Lisbon, Gosney said.

Gosney said the committee has written twice to the State Department of Personnel about the Whitehouse case, but has received no reply. In the first letter, the committee asked an investigation of Whitehouse's status as a political office-holder and a candidate for re-election while serving in a Civil Service job, he said.

In the second letter, the committee demanded the immediate removal of Whitehouse on the grounds of political activity while holding a post in the classified service, he added.

Whitehouse was named to the county post a few months ago, succeeding James DeLuce of Salem, who was ordered transferred to New Philadelphia. DeLuce since has accepted a demotion and has been returned to the Salem outpost of the Highway Department as labor foreman, Gosney said.

Crew Begins Sealing Work On 13 Streets

A street department crew started work today on seal-coating of 13 blacktop streets in a periodic maintenance project designed to close the surfaces against weather damage.

The work was launched this morning on three downtown stretches — Washington St. between E. 4th and 5th Sts., St. Clair Ave. from 6th St. to Broadway and Jefferson St. between W. 5th and 6th Sts.

Safety-Service Director Robert Owen explained the work will be done entirely with city crews and equipment. Earlier this year, Council appropriated $5,000 for the seal-coating program, involving use of 300 tons of slag and 8,500 gallons of liquid asphalt.

Holes in the street surfaces will be patched before the seal coat is applied. The street first is covered with a coat of liquid asphalt, then fine slag is spread. The city has its own asphalt distributor truck, slag spreader and roller, which allows a saving compared with contractor's prices, Owen pointed out.

The director pointed out that parking will be banned on each affected street as the work progresses. No advance warning could be given on the seal-coating work today because officials did not know until 10 last night that it would proceed this morning, Owen explained. Covers were placed over parking meter heads to warn motorists off the three stretches this morning.

Here are the other stretches scheduled for the seal coating: State St. from Pennsylvania Ave. to the River Rd.; Erie St. from Maryland Ave. to Sylvan St.; Smithfield St. from Case St. west; all of May St., Anna St., Spring Grove Ave. and Wyoming Ave.; Idaho Ave. from Belmont St. to Olmhausen St., and Olmhausen St. from Idaho Ave. to Wyoming Ave. Anderson Blvd. also is listed tentatively for the seal-coating.

Meanwhile, the Ohio Valley Paving Corp. of St. Clairsville sent its crews back to East Liverpool today to resume work on low-cost surfacing of sections of 42 streets.

Weather permitting, the crews are scheduled to finish the project by Friday. The street coat was applied to all the streets Tuesday.

Two finishing coats of liquid asphalt and slag are scheduled to be applied on each street in the work today and tomorrow. The city is footing half the bill for the work — plus the cost of intersections—with property-owners paying the other half.

4 Bids Opened For Midland Water Project

Offers Higher Than Estimates; More Federal Aid Eyed

The Midland Municipal Authority at a special meeting Wednesday night opened four bids for the general construction of the proposed filter plant expansion.

The consulting engineer was authorized to apply for an increase in the federal grant it has received for the project because all the offers were higher than the estimate.

The engineer, Granville Kester, of Michael Baker, Inc., assured the authority, however, that even if an increase is not granted, it will still receive the $141,000 already earmarked in federal aid.

The Pitt Construction Co. of Pittsburgh asked $289,700; Birmingham Construction Co. of Birmingham, Mich., $298,000; LaMon Construction, Inc., of Pittsburgh, $321,700, and Beebe, Ross & Kennedy Corp. of Pittsburgh, $306,400.

Bids on the electrical work were received from Prothero Electric Co. of Beaver for $17,399, and Rawding Electric Service, Inc., of Beaver Falls, for $15,814.

The W. R. Davies Co. of Pittsburgh submitted the only bid, $16,950, for the heating and plumbing work.

The bids were turned over to the engineer for study and recommendation.

George Tarbuck & Co. of Midland was granted the contract for painting and cleaning the 2-million-gallon water storage tank, and the painting of the 500,000- and 150,000-gallon tanks.

His bids were $12,500 for the big tank, $1,750 for the second, and $950 for the third. His total bid was $15,200. The color will be an aluminumized blue-green.

The authority recently received a bid from Jerry Betki of Beaver Falls for $3,800 for repair of the heating unit at the plant but it was rejected last night on the engineer's recommendation that it was too high. His was the only offer received.

Sgt. George Tepovich and another Midland officer arrested the pair on a tip and a search revealed Neely was carrying a dagger-like weapon. However, as they were being taken to the station Neely pulled out another knife and in a struggle slashed the sergeant on the leg.

Bridge Worker Dies In Plunge Of 40 Feet

BEAVER — Dr. John Colavincenzo, Beaver county coroner, has ruled the death of Joseph Scrivo in a bridge fall Wednesday was an accident.

Mr. Scrivo, 40, of Beaver Falls, fell about 40 feet from the bridge under construction over the Beaver River between Beaver Falls and Eastvale.

Authorities said he apparently slipped while carrying a plank, walking backwards, and fell to the railroad tracks.

City Man, Companion Due At Prison Farm

Gary Risher, 24, of East Liverpool and Dennis K. Neely, 22, of Madison, Ohio, who fled Ohio's Grafton Prison Farm in Lorain County and figured in the slaying of a Midland patrolman when they were captured Aug. 19, are due for return to the institution — with a one-year workhouse term hanging over their heads when they are released by Ohio authorities.

Prosecutor Richard Steward Wednesday in Beaver County Court accepted their guilty pleas — Risher to a charge of carrying a deadly weapon and his companion to charges of aggravated assault and battery and carrying a deadly weapon, and they were given the workhouse terms.

Sgt. George Tepovich and another Midland officer arrested the pair on a tip and a search revealed Neely was carrying a dagger-like weapon. However, as they were being taken to the station Neely pulled out another knife and in a struggle slashed the sergeant on the leg.

Trial Planned On Auto Theft

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set a hearing Tuesday at 9 a. m. for Phillip Eugene Smith, 19, of 1424 Dresden Ave., one of two youths arrested early Tuesday on charges of stealing an auto owned by Gilford Burdick, 420 Wedgewood St.

Judge Chertoff set a continuance in Smith's preliminary hearing after the youth asked time to obtain counsel. Bond was set at $1,000.

The charge was filed against Smith Wednesday by Lt. W. E. McDaniel. The other suspect in the case is a 16-year-old youth who has been referred to juvenile authorities.

Police said two persons leaped out of Burdick's car at 3:10 a. m. Tuesday on Pennsylvania Ave. near Dewey Ave., allowing it to crash into the front of a building at 1243 Pennsylvania Ave. occupied by the Duquesne Distributing Co.

The two abandoned the car while being followed by a police cruiser operated by Patrolman Paul A. Burson Jr., police said. About 45 minutes later, Smith and the 16-year-old were taken into custody on Harvey Ave. by Officer Burson and Patrolman David K. Mumaw, officers said.

Board Hires 2 For South Side Faculty

Hiring of two new teachers and acceptance of the resignation of a third was authorized by the Southern Beaver County Joint School District Board of Education at a meeting Tuesday night at South Side High School.

Mrs. Mary Hippel of Monaca was appointed as fifth grade instructor, replacing Robert Vovnick, whose resignation the board accepted.

Joseph Druzisky of Baden was employed as a high school instructor.

In other action, the board discussed devotion programs for the students, and agreed on a policy in line with the recent Supreme Court ruling barring formal religious exercises.

A salary schedule was also discussed, and the board agreed on a schedule in line with state standards.

Textbooks for the elementary and high school classes were adopted.

The board will meet Oct. 7. Enrollment in the Southern Beaver County School District was set at 1,088, when classes opened Wednesday, representing a decrease of 13 under last year's figures.

The elementary school shows an increase of 15 to 563, while South dropped by 28 to 525.

Willie McCovey of the San Francisco Giants compiled a 24-game hitting streak this season.

Civil Rights

Sen. Javits Asks Early Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

CIVIL RIGHTS: Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., has called on the Senate's Democratic leaders to revise their civil rights timetable lest the result be an "emasculated bill."

Javits would have the Senate swing into early action by using the public accommodations bill now before the Senate Commerce Committee as the vehicle for other civil rights legislation.

The Democratic leadership plans to wait for a bill from the House before beginning floor debate, Javits said. This might delay Senate action until November or December, he said, and lead to weak legislation.

TENTATIVE TRIP: Secretary of State Dean Rusk hopes to go to Europe next month, attend an Oct. 24-28 meeting in Bonn of U.S. ambassadors in Europe and perhaps meet with West German authorities.

But in giving this word Wednesday, department press officer Richard I. Phillips stressed that Rusk's plans are tentative because of a heavy schedule that may include now unforeseen congressional appearances.

CHIANG CRITIC: Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., says the United States helped impose a Chinese "military dictatorship" on Formosa and when the government of Chiang Kai-shek passes from the scene America "may well be remembered for the tyranny" it foisted on the Formosans.

In one of a series of Senate speeches Wednesday calling for sharp slashes in foreign aid, Morse said that if President Kennedy wants specifics on where the program should be reduced, "I say slash it on Taiwan—cut it in Taiwan."

U.S. officials have said the island's economy is progressing rapidly and that U.S. economic aid will be phased out in three or four years.

RESERVES: Young men who fulfill their military obligation by enlisting in the Reserve program will be required to serve at least four months on active duty and remain in the Reserves for a total of six years.

The new requirements are in legislation signed into law Wednesday by President Kennedy.

The Reserve program had provided for six months of active duty. Over-all service obligations varied up to eight years.

The duration of active duty time now will depend on the training required to qualify in a military specialty. It can range up to 18 months.

New Furniture Awaited

Southern Local School Opening Day In Doubt

A further delay in the opening of Southern Local School District's fall term looms today with a postponement in the delivery of new classroom furniture for the $1760,000 high school near Salineville.

The student desks and chairs and other furniture were to be shipped Tuesday from the Griggs Co. plant at Selma, N. C., for arrival Wednesday.

However, Jack Baker, Southern Local executive head, learned in a telephone talk with company officials the furniture has not been loaded yet, and probably won't be loaded until Friday.

Robert Skinner, president of the Board of Education, has been advised of the delay, and a meeting of the board is being considered to determine action on the start of the term.

The board is expected to decide whether to convene the elementary schools in the district, or to delay their opening along with the high school in order to keep transportation and other school schedules aligned.

The Griggs Co. has a $3,600 order for supplying 189 classroom desks and chairs along with other types of study desks and chairs.

About 50 study desks have been transferred from the old high school building at Salineville, and new typing desks and laboratory furniture has already been delivered by another firm, Baker said.

Some 400 students are due at the new high school building. There are about 1,450 pupils in the entire district.

The flag salute. About 35 attended and refreshments were served.

Next meeting is Oct. 2. The club also will participate in a rally of the Women's Club Oct. 7 at the headquarters to be opened in the Diamond.

Thant's Congo Unit Plans New Meeting

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Members of Secretary-General U Thant's 19-nation Congo advisory committee have decided to meet again Tuesday after consultations with their governments on whether U.N. troops should be kept in the Congo beyond the end of the year.

Sources said Thant asked for their advice at a private meeting Wednesday.

Thant's announced intention to pull the U.N. force out of the Congo by the end of 1963 was opposed by the United States and several other nations who fear a renewal of fighting.

The U.N. force, which at one time numbered 19,000 men, was sent to the Congo in July 1960 to preserve peace.

Tests, Licensing Of Boats Urged

There is a growing concern among lake and river points over water safety as boating enthusiasts increase by leaps and bounds.

The matter is of paramount importance here and in the area, with more and more craft taking advantage of the expansive pool created in the Ohio River by completion of the Stratton Dam.

Safety organizations from Cleveland on the north to Cincinnati in the south are calling for testing and licensing as the waterways begin to become as crowded with boats as are the highways with automobiles.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer, in an editorial, offered this constructive comment: "This is a matter for the state because there must be a uniform code of requirements within the state. Lake Erie, our navigable rivers and inland bodies of water touch on dozens of counties and municipalities. It would not be practical to have dozens of interpretations of safe boating standards."

"It took 12 years to get a state law passed requiring automobile drivers to have licenses. Today licenses are granted to new drivers only after suitable tests are passed. . . . It is not too early to prepare. . . in the interest of water safety."

Lyman Wells, a water policeman attached to the Division of Boating, Kentucky Department of Public Safety, declares he's "100 per cent behind the idea" of licensing persons to operate boats in the same manner they are licensed to drive automobiles. "It's very necessary and it's imminent," he said.

In supporting his stand, Wells called "plain downright ignorance" the major cause of tragedy on his beat, the 95.5 miles of Ohio River between the Markland and Capt. Anthony Meldahl Dams in the Cincinnati and neighboring Kentucky area.

He sees no reason for establishing speed limits — there are none now — "as long as operators don't endanger other boats". And he doesn't advocate an age limit, pointing out that he has seen "12-and 15-year-olds run a boat a lot better than the old man".

The suggestions for testing and licensing boats come from those experienced in the ways of water safety. They deserve the serious consideration of the Ohio Assembly at the earliest possible time.

The Late Lesson

The opening of the 1963-64 school year, under way in most of the district, has been accompanied by the annual exhortations to motorists for careful driving, to youngsters for hard study and to parents for motivating their sons and daughters to new learning.

The teachers also have been given their orientation, the bus drivers have met and the cafeteria workers know kitchen procedure and policy for the new term.

What is left is a tiny measure of advice which every adult learned too late and which, it appears, can never be learned except too late.

It is this: Every boy and girl should savor the rich benefits of learning while in school—whether kindergarten or college—not just the vital book learning, but the invaluable exchange between students and teacher, along with the many other activities, sports and social relationships, which are also part of education.

School days are among the best times of life for practically every normal American, despite the uncertainties, disappointments and the occasional awkwardness which accompany youth.

The tragedy is that too many fail to realize this until it becomes part of the past.

Informative Signs Would Help

Renewed interest in covered bridges has brought many a district motorist upon the dusty trails which lead to Columbiana County's six wooden spans — those quaintly practical remnants of bygone days.

The trails pose a challenge to the countryside pathfinder and a few are real sticklers for the driver accustomed to clearly-marked signs leading to parking lots, super roads and service areas.

The covered bridges in the county are located at six sites in a U-shaped alignment around Lisbon—one on Churchill Rd., one on Miller Rd., one at Teegarden and three along Trinity Church Rd.

The new county map issued by the engineer's office at Lisbon earlier this summer clearly designates the sites, along with the township road numbers.

Without a map, however, the bridge-seeker must probe into the county's rural areas hesitantly and generally comes on the bridges only after a bit of luck. Even with a map, the absence of road guides still makes the trip a test of geographic skill.

The visitor to the Morgan Monument along Route 518 is impressed by the lovely roadside park and the stone marker commemorating the surrender site of the famed Confederate raider. Again, however, there is a noticeable lack of information about this special spot in the county's history.

It would be of tremendous value if the townships and county officials could work out some means of providing more adequate signs directing interested tourists and others to the covered bridges and other picturesque and historic attractions which the county has to offer.

All Of A Sudden Sensitive

The harsh word echoing back from South Viet Nam, which U.S. taxpayers have been sinking money into at the rate of a half-billion dollars a year, is that the government there has no intention of trying to make itself pleasing to our President Kennedy on the touchy issue of Buddhist persecution. It will take our money but not our advice.

It will continue to push Buddhists around as it pleases. And why shouldn't it? When did the United States become so sensitive about governments that push around minorities?

As far as the reigning lights in Saigon can see, precedent is in their favor. For years, Washington was complacent about people being pushed around in the Dominican Republic by the dictator Trujillo. It backed him because he was anti-Communist, which is what the government in South Viet Nam says it is.

Washington stood by a brutalitarian regime in Cuba because its president, Batista, said he was anti-Communist — until Batista's excesses generated a revolution and gave the Cubans a new dictator named Castro, a Communist.

It gets along with a bully-boy government in Spain because it's against Communists and even cuddles up to a regime in Yugoslavia which is Communist to the core but periodically says it is anti-Moscow.

Even at home, any institution or individual that says often enough and loud enough it's anti-Communist can be anything else it wants to be and no questions asked. Only in South Viet Nam are there strong objections to being anti-humanitarian as well as anti-Communist.

What makes Buddhism so special?

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

My vacation this year was turned over to deferred maintenance on our minuscule spread in Rosy Fingert Dawn. At prevailing prices, I earned a thousand dollars a week for three weeks, patching, painting, scraping and puttying.

Year by year, I grow more impatient about using public money to buy the cooperation of governments that would be hostile if the United States quit buying them off. They are taking this country for all it's worth, and we should react accordingly.

There are two strong nostalgias that affect me. One is the smell of carnivals and circuses, recalling all the fun these things represented when I was a child. The other is my recollection of the fun I had playing football in an era when desire was more important than poundage.

It is hard for me to roll my eyes and flap my ears about the Negro girl who married the white boy at the University of Georgia. As I get the story of what went on in the good old South for generations before anyone worried about such things, this was the pattern of all voluntary integration.

Inflation is easy to conceal in large exchanges, like the purchase of an auto. Where it draws blood is in small exchanges, like the kind in drug stores, where what once was a 29-cent purchase now takes everything but the wrinkles out of a dollar bill.

If you wonder about the dilapidated condition of roadside post boxes in the country, these installations take a terrible beating from weather, salt on the highways, flying stones and snow plows. Ours requires complete rehabilitation every two years to keep it looking spruce.

The latest dog to call the Twillery home is a white German shepherd. Our Turpitz looks, moves and eats like a wolf, though his deportment is that of a kitten.

I would be happier about the whole thing if senators hashing over the nuclear test ban treaty would stick to facts and skip windbag statements that will haunt them in years to come. They don't know any more about the whole matter than a pig knows about Yom Kippur and should be guided accordingly.

Is there anything half so tender as a slicked-up toddler being escorted to the first day of school by a doting mother? I mean the doting mother, not the toddler, who as often as not is screaming and kicking.

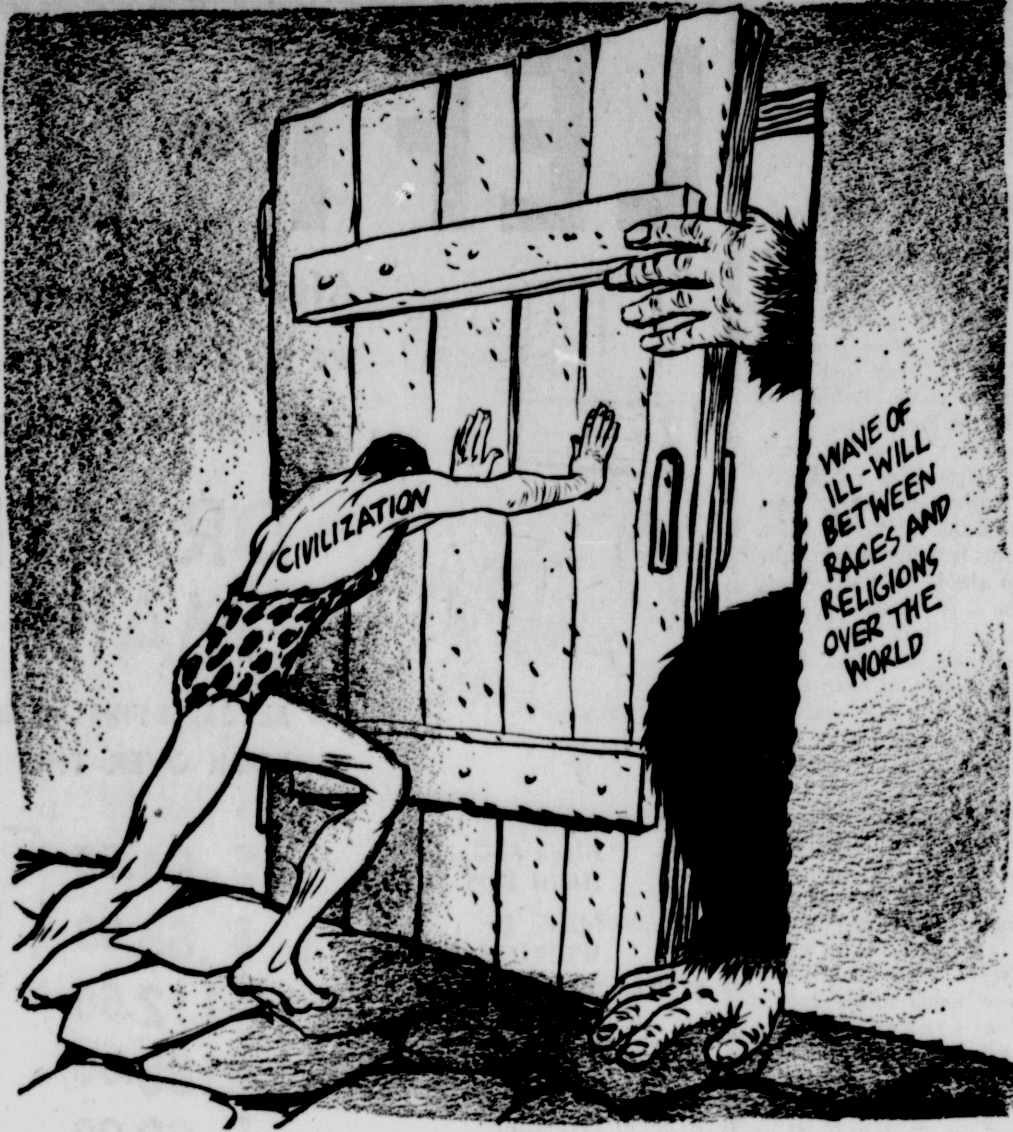

Several times during my vacation I took off at random and drove through my own countryside until it was time to turn back for dinner. I contend if our scenery were abroad, instead of here, we'd bring home picture post cards and colored slides to show the neighbors.

This 'n That

At Howland Island in the mid-Pacific, a 20-foot stone lighthouse is inscribed "Amelia Earhart Light, 1937". It was built in memory of Amelia Earhart, on the island which was her intended destination on her last flight, in 1937.

Queen Elizabeth I is said to haunt the library at Windsor Castle and to appear at the battlements on Christmas eve. Guards say they recognize the Queen by her flaming-red wig and olive complexion.

Challenged!

Four Years In The 'Goldfish Bowl'

By Victor Riesel

It's now four years and 300,000 "goldfish bowl" financial reports after the act. The act is the controversial Labor - Management Reporting and Disclosure law. It became effective Sept. 14, 1959, amid vehement protests by union chiefs that the opening of their money records to the public would cripple labor.

Labor hardly is hobbling despite the fact that it has had to live in a goldfish bowl and show its expenditures to any rank-and-file or curious citizen who asks the government for a copy of the reports on file.

For an inside view of the act's operations I went to the one man who knows it best. He is John Holcombe, who directed the Bureau of Labor-Management Reports for the first four years. From him I have just gotten this exclusive analysis.

There have been 12,000 investigations. These probes uncovered some 8,000 violations of the act, also known as the Landrum-Griffin law. Most of the probes resulted from rank-and-file complaints.

FOR THE FIRST time the membership now had a force to turn to when they were being pushed around or when they believe that union funds were being lifted from the treasury, or they knew that elections were being stolen.

Most of the violations were not willful. But there were some 500 instances which were serious and involved some mighty tough characters.

"Criminal convictions have been obtained in over 100 prosecutions," Mr. Holcombe told me.

"No international union has had more than six convictions except the Teamsters, which has had 25.

"Nearly 200 elections of union officers have been found to violate the law or are in court.

"There have been 13 cases where unions, and employers, have refused to make available their records in compliance with subpoenas which I issued. In two such cases, the Teamsters carried their objections all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court without success."

I asked Mr. Holcombe to discuss one of the biggest cases he handled.

HE REPLIED: "Though the Bakery and Confectionery Workers Union was investigated by the McClellan Committee and the FBI and was expelled by the AFL-CIO, it continued under the same leadership. The financial report of the international (union) to the Bureau of Labor-Management Reports in 1961 showed $35,000 received as repayment of a loan by a local. A check of a report (the bureau) filed by that local showed no comparable disbursement.

"An intensive, nationwide investigation disclosed a complicated scheme under which union funds were shifted around — to cover up a theft that occurred before the Landrum-Griffin Act was passed. The international president, secretary-treasurer, a covey of vice-presidents—and the union lawyer—have been convicted.

These financial reports are on file with what insiders call the "goldfish bowl" section. For 25 cents a page any citizen can get a copy of a union report. Thus, as the instance of a New Jersey union, it was easy to discover that an official missing for over a year was still on the local's payroll.

It's a simple matter to learn which Teamsters leaders' salaries total $75,000 or more a year. Or from how many sources inside the union structure they draw money. And how much of it is for expenses.

BUT THERE is no attempt by the bureau to trap any labor leader.

"In the first three months of this year," Holcombe said, "more than 500 clinics were held throughout the country, usually under the sponsorship of labor central bodies. Over 12,000 union officers were taught at these sessions how to conduct the affairs of their unions in accordance with the principles of the act."

Holcombe feels the four-year record is encouraging. But his final words are:

"No agency of government alone can assure the proper operation of any part of our society. As there is no substitute for an informed and active citizenry at town or national level, so in conducting labor - management relations there is no substitute for the active participation in union affairs of informed rank and file members."

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — County Treasurer John Litty was sworn in by Judge H. W. Hammond for his second term.

The Chester Women's Temperance Union observed its first anniversary with a special program. Mrs. C. R. Reese of East Liverpool was the principal speaker.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — L.H. Copeland, weather observer at Millport, reported "many hot sunny days and a below normal rainfall" for August.

Miss Esther F. Swift of Main St., organist for the Wellsville First Methodist Church, presented a hymn time program over radio station WPIC at Sharon.

TEN YEARS AGO — Mr. and Mrs. William Berrisford of W. 9th St., residents here for 30 years,

Kenneth Ibbes and Alton Johnson enrolled as members of the Chester Volunteer Fire Department.

East Liverpool received $65,544 in the distribution of sales and intangible taxes from 1953.

Letter To Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Sunday evening a fire destroyed a large barn and wagon building on Spring Valley Farm. It was a devastating sight to behold and a frightening experience.

We owe a great debt of gratitude to those who responded so quickly to render their services—the four volunteer fire companies of Glenmoor, LaCroft, Calcutta and Dixonville; the Civil Defense Auxiliary for coffee and sandwiches; the Amateur Radio Club for its electric generator; our neighbors, both rural and city, who contributed their help and moral support; the Ohio Power Co.; the Madison and Liverpool township constables; the state police; the forest ranger pilot who noticed and reported the smoke from the barn as he patrolled the area in his plane.

It is comforting to know there are so many people standing by ready to help in time of need. We express our thanks to them all.

Odd Facts

The glass of a "one-way" mirror is coated with a special chrome alloy and this, instead of being opaque like the ordinary mirror, is transparent. It works best when the mirror side faces a lighted room and the unseen observer is in a darkened room.

The Amazon River's 3,900 miles —draining from the Andean highlands of Bolivia, Peru, Ecuador and Colombia, and extending to the Atlantic Ocean — are exceeded only by the Nile's 4,145-mile length.

'To Err Is Human—'

By David Lawrence

Some Thoughts On The Landis Case

A human problem that concerns the future of one man can sometimes be challenging as well as baffling. To rescue a man—trapped in a coal mine, for instance, hundreds of feet below ground — heroic feats of daring have been tried and have been successful. But how shall a man be saved David Lawrence from himself and the ailments that have dragged him down to disrepute?

The nation has just read that James M. Landis, a respected lawyer, a former government official of prominence and an able public servant, failed to pay his income taxes for the years 1956 through 1960, and now has been sentenced to a prison term for his offense. He was earning large sums — enough to pay what was due the government. He pleaded guilty to willful failure to pay and, when the Internal Revenue Service served him with its demand for payment, he complied. He gave in court the explanation that he had been too busy with his work to file his returns.

Yet this man was chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission in the 1930s by appointment of President Franklin D. Roosevelt and later became chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board under President Truman.

He served under President Kennedy for a few months in 1961 as special adviser on problems of the regulatory agencies of the federal government. He had been dean of the Harvard Law School from 1937 to 1946 and had become a member of a prominent New York City law firm.

WHAT, THEN, is the real explanation for this strange behavior? The public is left to guess or infer what it wishes from a reading of the remarks made in the courtroom by Judge Sylvester J. Ryan of the U. S. District Court as he sentenced Mr. Landis to serve three concurrent terms of 30 days each in prison and to undergo a year of probation. Judge Ryan said in part:

"It's not a pleasant task . . . you still have fruitful years before you. You still can perform some service for the government. I think you and I understand each other. . . .

"You and I are old men and we have human weaknesses. I have the psychiatric report in front of me. I know the habit you formed is difficult to control. It entrapped many, many brilliant men like you. Here I'm giving you a sermon. You could give me a sermon, I'm sure. Maybe we'd both be right . . . but I can't let you go today. I must impose sentence on you in fairness to justice . . .

"Maybe you can take your place back in life where you belong. I hope God will give you the strength and character to overcome your affliction."

But what was the "habit" to which the judge referred? Newsman later wrote that they had learned that it was not narcotics or drugs. At one point Judge Ryan in his comments in court had said:

"The probation report also shows that he (the defendant) is receiving for some period of time psychiatric treatment. He has been emotionally involved as far back as 1945."

MR. LANDIS had been brought to court from the neurological institute of Columbia - Presbyterian Medical Center, where he has been for several weeks. When asked by the judge to make any statement he wished, Mr. Landis replied:

"I'd like to make this brief. I don't know how I can add much to the case. I'd like to express my regret, and, indeed, my repentance, for the folly that led me to put off the filing of these returns. I was getting my work back into shape."

The causes of lapses of memory or emotional disturbances are not easily ascertained. Sometimes psychiatric treatment has been of little avail.

There have been cases of irregular behavior, too, in which no particular habits have been involved, yet individuals have deliberately committed acts of dishonesty in violation of the law. In one instance dealt with here many years ago, a very wealthy man with no previous record of a bad habit, such as alcoholism or narcotics, not only failed to pay his income taxes but, even after he had been penalized for this, repeated the same offense not long afterwards.

The speculation in that case turned toward various aberrations. Were there not days or hours when some thought might have been given to the payment of one's income taxes? Medical experts say that sometimes a kind of blind spot or delusion arises with respect to a single subject, and the individual himself seems helpless to evaluate it or to overcome it.

Whatever be the quirks of mind that produce erratic acts, even as normal lives are pursued in every other respect, the fact remains that the law has to deal on a parity with the prominent, as well as the inconspicuous citizens in the community, as an example to others.

A SOCIETY governed by law has to mete out its punishments unless, to be sure, a board of psychiatrists recommends some other course to the court. The attorney for Mr. Landis was asked by the judge whether he felt that the defendant was mentally competent to stand trial, and the lawyer answered in the affirmative.

Sometimes the prison sentence, however brief, constitutes a shock which in itself is a helpful factor in bringing about a substantial change in attitude on the part of the afflicted individual. More often it is a willingness to submit to and rely on a power of guidance stronger than one's self which brings about the miracle.

Many a businessman finds now and then among his employees a case which has defied the efforts of both psychiatrists and clergymen, but sympathetic friends, inspired by a spiritual feeling and dedicated purpose, have managed somehow to help an unfortunate individual to reconquer himself.

This correspondent had a casual acquaintance many years ago with Mr. Landis in New Deal days and has often differed with his views on public questions but James M. Landis is deserving not only of the compassion which the judge exhibited but the sympathetic help of those who do know him so that he may be aided in fulfilling the hopeful prophecy of Judge Ryan when he said to the prisoner at the bar: "You still have fruitful years before you."

People In News

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Raymond Burr, who portrays the unbeatable criminal lawyer Perry Mason on television, lost a case in Phoenix involving a judgment of $1,085.

The judgment was to George J. Shaheen of Phoenix, who claimed Burr had owed him the money since 1949. Burr filed an answer to the suit instead of hiring an attorney. Judge Charles C. Stidham ruled the actor did not follow proper procedures and did not appear for a court-ordered deposition last June.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich., is recuperating at Bethesda Naval Hospital from a kidney infection, it was reported.

McNamara's office said the senator went to the hospital with a "slight fever," was resting comfortably and expected to remain in the hospital for several days.

2 Mummified Seals Found By Explorers

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Australian Antarctic explorers have reported finding the mummified bodies of two seals on the ice, 600 feet above sea level, and four miles from the open sea. Seals normally stay close to the coast because of difficulty in moving on their flippers on land or ice. The Australian Antarctic Division of the Australian Department of External Affairs reported the discoveries, and said the seals had died there, perhaps hundreds of years ago. The bodies were perfectly preserved by dehydration in the cold air, but why the seals had headed inland from the sea is not known, the division said.

The Houston Colts won 11 of their first 15 extra-inning games this season.

Judge Rules Traveler Is Entitled To Rest

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Anybody walking through the Missouri Ozarks is entitled to sleep beside the road without fear of being arrested for vagrancy, Magistrate E.A. Barbour ruled in dismissing a case against a 38-year-old traveler. "This is a free country," Judge Barbour ruled. "and a man is entitled to travel through the country. I just don't understand how a man could be asleep by the highway while he's traveling and be arrested for vagrancy. Case dismissed."

The New York Yankees beat the Chicago White Sox in their season series, 10 games to 8.

Motorist, 53, Gets Leniency After Mishap

Orville Brewer, 53, of 335 W. 9th St., was given a suspended 10-day term in County Jail today in Municipal Court when he pleaded guilty to a traffic charge filed by police as an aftermath of a crash Aug. 23 in which his car ran through the rear of a garage and dropped 30 feet into a creek.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff ordered Brewer to pay the costs on the charge of driving without an operator's permit. Brewer told the court he was released from City Hospital Saturday and still is under a physician's care as a result of injuries suffered in the crash.

Brewer acknowledged to the court he has not had a driver's license for five years. He said he was moving the car from a parking place on the street to the garage, but the brakes failed and allowed the car to dive through the end of the building and plunge into the creek.

Meanwhile, Judge Chertoff dismissed an affidavit accusing Oscar E. Beagle of Shadyside Ave. of driving a motor vehicle with improper registration.

Beagle was cited Wednesday at 7:50 p. m. on St. Clair Ave. by Patrolmen Jerry Adkins and Karl Samples. Officer Samples told the court Beagle was at the wheel of an unlicensed truck which was being towed by another vehicle.

Beagle said he bought the truck in Beechwood and was moving it to his home. The judge commented that "there might be a technical violation here, but I'll not be technical."

Stanton Local School Enrollment Increases

Enrollment reached 802 when the Stanton Local District schools opened for the 1963-64 term Wednesday.

This is slightly higher than last year, school officials said.

A breakdown shows Ironton, 175; Edison, 216; Hammondsville, 92, and the high school, which also is at Hammondsville, 319.

The students attended a full-day session yesterday, according to Supt. C. P. Henderson.

2 Killed, 2 Injured In Car-Truck Crash

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A collision between a dump truck and an auto carrying four elderly widows has left two of the women dead and the other two in critical condition at Massillon City Hospital.

Killed in the accident north of here Wednesday were Mrs. Margaret Arnott, 79, and Mrs. Helen Motz, 65, both of Akron. In critical condition were Mrs. Florence Mickle, 70, of Akron and Mrs. Julia Hoge, 74, of St. Petersburg, Fla.

Man, 60, Drowns

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Emil Zancencella, 60, of nearby Adena, who could not swim, drowned in Pine Valley Lake Wednesday when the small boat he and a friend were fishing in overturned.

Deaths and Funerals Memorial Set For Attorney

LEETONIA — A memorial service will be conducted Friday at the Courthouse at Lisbon for Atty. Devere F. Grappy, 234 High St., who died Tuesday night at Salem Central Clinic following a long illness. He was 60.

The ceremony will be held at 12:30 p. m. by the Columbiana County Bar Association.

Born in Dunkirk, Ohio, May 18, 1903, to Jacob Grappy and Rose Hess Grappy, he had been a Leetonia resident since 1925.

A graduate of Ohio Northern University, he was a member of the Dunkirk Methodist Church, Masonic Lodge and the Scottish Rite of Youngstown.

He was a member and past president of the County Bar Association, Eagles Lodge and Sportsmen's Club at Washingtonville and a director of the Peoples Savings & Loan Association.

He also was a trustee of the Columbiana County Law Library Association.

He was married Nov. 25, 1927. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Ruth Dewitt Grappy; a son, Dr. D. Fred Grappy of Columbiana; a daughter, Mrs. John Wender of Puyallup, Wash.; four sisters, Mrs. Florence Henderson of Kenton, Mrs. Jess Russell of West Mansfield, Mrs. Mabel Getz of Dunkirk and Mrs. C. J. Schneider of Lima; two brothers, Everson Grappy and Carl Grappy of Mount Victor, and six grandchildren.

Services will be held Friday at 1:30 p. m. at the Fry Funeral Home in Columbiana by the Rev. Albert Oakes. Burial will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Youngstown.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9.

Instructor At Rogers Appointed Principal

Mrs. Louise Hampson, first grade teacher at Rogers, has been named principal of the school, succeeding Calvin Graber, George VanHorne, executive head, announced.

Mrs. Hampson, who has taught at Rogers six years, will continue to teach first grade. She was a fourth grade instructor last year.

Graber was recently appointed principal at Calcutta.

Angry Woman Shows Plenty Of Evidence

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—An angry woman called the Montgomery County Sheriff's Department to complain about golf balls from a nearby golf driving range hitting her trailer home.

Later, she showed deputies the dents in her trailer, and then produced more evidence: 940 golf balls she'd picked up around the trailer since the range opened last spring.

Killed In Collision

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. David Chase, 69, of Orwell was injured fatally Wednesday when her automobile failed to stop at a stop sign and smashed into the side of a passing truck in nearby Austintown.

Hancock Tax Returns Total Over Million

NEW CUMBERLAND — With "way over $1 million collected in August," Sheriff Joseph E. Manypenny's office still is rushed as Hancock County taxpayers pay real and personal property taxes to take advantage of a 2½ percent discount offered for payment before Sept. 28.

Because the office has been "very busy" with taxpayers visiting the Courthouse personally to make payments and by heavy mail collections, no breakdown is available on the number of taxpayers or the amount paid, the sheriff's office said.

Manypenny again reminded taxpayers to take advantage of the discount period, warning it will not be extended after Sept. 28 and interest will be added to the amount due.

The office is open from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. on weekdays and from 9 a. m. to noon on Saturdays.

The sheriff is charged with collecting $2,110,233 in real estate taxes and $1,633,171 in personal property taxes, a total of $3,743,405. Some 30,000 tax statements were mailed Aug. 21, after being delayed by litigation over the property reappraisal.

Ever flavor apricot puree with brandy and use as a filling for a white layer cake? Frost with whipped cream slightly sweetened with sugar and flavored with vanilla.

Bridge Work Bid Received

Resurfacing of the roadway of the Chester Bridge is expected within three weeks, according to Ohio Highway Department officials, who announced the Tri-State Asphalt Co. of Martins Ferry is the apparent low bidder on the bridge work, along with other projects in the area.

The firm bid $88,291 for resurfacing the span, along with two miles of Routes 7 and 39 and five miles of Route 213 in Jefferson County when offers were opened Wednesday at Columbus. The state's estimate for the project was $96,800.

Earl Nelson, Division 11 deputy director, said the firm — if officially designated as the contract recipient — will probably undertake the work within three weeks. He said deadline for any blacktopping project is Oct. 15.

Asked if the bridge would be closed to traffic during the work, he said the contractor would decide that, but in all probability it would be closed because of the equipment on the narrow roadway.

He said the closing, if ordered, would be "only for a few hours" and would be scheduled during a period of light traffic.

The project includes Route 7 in Wellsville for four tenths of a mile, Route 39 in Salineville for 0.97 of a mile and Route 213 in Knox and Saline Townships for 5.1 miles.

Viet Nam

Press Wednesday in an interview that the Diem government has irreparably lost the support of its people.

No amount of foreign aid can carry Diem's regime to victory, Chuong said. Still, he added, aid to Viet Nam cannot be abruptly stopped without losing it to the Communists.

"This dilemma seems insoluble," he continued, "because almost all of the material forces in Viet Nam are in the hands of dictators who are determined to use the population of Saigon, including the Americans there—and even the freedom of Viet Nam—to blackmail the United States into continuing its aid to a regime which has irreparably lost the support of the people and can no longer lead them to victory."

Chuong quit his post after Diem's brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, raided Buddhist pagodas Aug. 21 and rounded up hundreds of monks and nuns. Mrs. Chuong resigned as South Viet Nam's permanent observer at the United Nations.

Chuong avoided all references in the interview to his daughter, who is Nhu's wife.

When you are adding chives to cottage cheese, mix them in just before serving for freshest flavor. The same rule applies to chives and cream cheese. Both cottage and cream cheese mixture are pleasant to serve with luncheon vegetable plates.

Rural Schools Enroll 4,787

LISBON — Columbiana County's three county school districts — Beaver Local, Fairfield - Waterford and United Local — had a total of 4,787 students when they opened for the 1963-64 term Wednesday, according to County Supt. James L. McBride.

The fourth rural school system — Southern Local — is undecided on its opening date.

Lisbon village schools had 34 fewer pupils than last year on opening day, according to Supt. Oliver Payne.

A breakdown of districts, with last year's total in parenthesis, follows:

Beaver Local — 2,409 (2,327); high school, 680 (586); public, 822 (801); Calcutta, 425 (457); Elkton, 121 (128); Rogers, 219 (206), and West Point, 142 (149).

Fairfield - Waterford — 1,032 (1,003); Crestview High, 273 (254); Fairfield, 407 (437), and New Waterford, 352 (312).

United Local — 1,346 (1,337); high school, 390 (374); and Grades, 956 (963).

Lisbon — 1,487 (1,517); David Anderson High, 388 (394); Lincoln, 586 (606), and McKinley, 512 (517).

The Columbiana County Retarded Children's School had an enrollment of 56 pupils for the opening, according to Robert Bycroft, county welfare director and head of the school.

County Plans Another Levy

A third countywide levy will be submitted to voters at the Nov. 5 general election, commissioners advised the County Election Board Wednesday afternoon.

Commissioners said they will file a resolution seeking a ballot place for a new quarter-mill levy to provide funds for child welfare purposes. It would be in effect five years.

Previously, commissioners certified resolutions asking a vote on renewal of two existing levies—five and a half tenths of a mill, also for child welfare, and four-tenths of a mill for tuberculosis care.

In submitting the new proposition, the county is proposing three levies that add up to the same 1.2 millage.

State law provides that when property valuations increase, the size of a voted levy will be reduced correspondingly so that it does not produce more revenue than the amount for which it originally was enacted.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, Election Board clerk, said all three levies will be printed on a single combination ballot, if that proves feasible. He said the commissioner's notification yesterday means that more than two dozen special questions and issues will appear on the ballot in county subdivisions at the general election.

Turn Good Food Into Good Health

What puzzling questions to you have about food and health today? With so much being written about nutrition, it is hard to distinguish between what is true and what is pseudo-scientific and misleading.

To make things more complicated, what is true today may change tomorrow! Research in this fascinating field is a continuing process, and nutrition is a living, changing science. In order to take advantage of important research, it is necessary to keep up with current findings.

Today there is available an incredible abundance of all sorts of good foods, within the means of most pocketbooks. It would certainly seem that we should be the best nourished people in the world. But are we?

IN A RECENT booklet, Facts About Nutrition, Dr. Benjamin T. Burton, an expert in the field of nutrition, points out: "Many persons still consume inadequate or faulty diets which are likely to lead to poor or borderline health, and there is continuing need to provide information on how to use this abundance of food to the best nutritional advantage."

To help you understand the promise and urgency of wise food habits, the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare has published Facts About Nutrition. This booklet emphasizes that all the essential food elements are needed daily for they work together in what might be termed nutrition team-work. Well balanced nutrition therefore calls for a well chosen variety of foods.

NUTRITION isn't simple today. For one reason, we use fewer calories. The lower the calories, the better their quality must be and the more concentrated the form of the nutrients. The booklet outlines the important food elements, and gives their best sources.

Paradoxical as it may seem, today many overweight individuals are overfed but poorly nourished. As pointed out, a good reducing diet is one which cuts down on total calories consumed, but does not cut out any dietary essential. A safe reducing diet must conform to the sample meal plan and menu pattern outlined, but with smaller servings of fatty and carbohydrate foods.

The booklet covers nutrition needs for pregnancy and lactation, infant nutrition, and nutrition for senior citizens. Although the booklet is scientific, it is not written in a stuffy way. It is so understandable that it can be easily translated in terms of everyday good food habits.

Boat Club Plans Area For Picnics

Plans for establishing a picnic area near the floodwall along Little Yellow Creek were discussed at a meeting of the Wellsville Boat Club Wednesday night.

The land is owned by the city and negotiations will be started to obtain an easement or lease.

Councilman Frank DeLorenzo, property committee chairman, remarked at a meeting of City Council Tuesday night that he would like to see some organization improve the area.

In other business, members decided to remove some dead trees from in front of the clubhouse. A work party will do this tonight. The remainder of the outside of the clubhouse will be painted.

Arthur Craven, vice commodore, presided. Next meeting is Oct. 2.

Union Official Takes Post With Publishers

CLEVELAND (AP)—Harry L. McCormick, 30, president of the Cleveland Newspaper Printing Pressmen's Union No. 5, has been appointed to a staff position in industrial relations with the Forest City Publishing Co., publishers of the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Trade To Be Boosted

BELGRADE (AP)—The Yugoslav press says the first proof of a desire by Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union to increase economic relations will be shown by a 50 per cent jump in trade by Jan. 1.

The reports by Politika, largest Yugoslav paper, and Borba, the Communist party newspaper, followed a visit to Yugoslavia by Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Politika said "obstacles for a successful economic cooperation have been removed."

Davidson-Hays Nuptials Held At Church Aug. 24

A romance of school days culminated in marriage when Miss Mary Ann Hays became the bride of Charles Graham Davidson the afternoon of Aug. 24 at 1 o'clock at St. Aloysius Catholic Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Marie Hays of Smithfield St., and the late Robert Hays, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davidson of Ohio Ave.

Fr. Joseph Bennett officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar background of white chrysanthemums, gladiolus, ferns and candelabra. Satin bows marked the family pews.

Mr. and Mrs. James O'Reilly presented the wedding music. The hymns were "Ave Maria," "God of Israel" and "On This Day O Beautiful Mother."

Given in marriage by her uncle, Peter Schuetz, of Warwood, W. Va., the bride wore an original gown of pure silk over tulle. The princess-line bodice was designed with a scalloped neckline, enhanced by Alencon lace and clusters of miniature ribbon rosettes, and long, tapered sleeves.

The lace motifs were repeated throughout the front panel of the bouffant skirt and the sweeping chapel train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was held in place by a crown of pearls and crystal pendants.

She carried a cascade arrangement of white roses centered with white orchids. In observing the traditions, she carried a crystal rosary, the gift of the bridegroom, and a borrowed heirloom lace handkerchief.

Miss Janet Criswell of Wheeling, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Ann Davidson of Cleveland, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. James Clunk. Miss Sue Ann Hays, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

They wore dresses of apricot-color organza fashioned with bouffant skirts. The fitted bodices were styled with portrait necklines and short sleeves. Their matching cabbage rose headpieces held scalloped tulle veils. They carried cascade bouquets of apricot teasers.

Polly Ann Schuetz, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and wore a white dress with matching floral headpiece. She carried a basket filled with roses.

James Clunk was best man. Ushers were John Hutchman, Gary Anderson and Mel Mandat of Akron.

The mother of the bride chose

MRS. C. G. DAVIDSON
She Was Mary Ann Hays.

a sheath of turquoise raw silk with matching jacket and accessories and a white orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a beige brocade jacket dress with matching accessories and corsage of mint green carnations.

A reception for 200 followed at the Country Club, which was decorated with chrysanthemums and fernery. The buffet table was centered with a four-tier cake, placed on separators and topped with wedding bells. Apricot-tinted carnations and lighted tapers in silver candelabra completed the setting.

Other out-of-town guests were from Hawthorne, Calif., Nokomis, Fla., Cambridge, Mass., Cuyahoga Falls and Pittsburgh.

For her honeymoon trip to the Poconos, the bride wore a gray linen sheath with matching gray and white striped coat, along with red accessories and her bridal orchid.

The newlyweds are graduates of East Liverpool High School, the bride in 1961 and the bridegroom in 1960. She attended Baldwin Wallace College in Berea and Robert Morris Junior College at Pittsburgh.

Her husband is attending Bowling Green State University and is affiliated with Theta Chi Social Fraternity.

They will reside in Bowling Green.

The bridegroom's parents entertained for the rehearsal dinner at the Travelers Hotel when the couple presented their attendants with engraved circlet pins and wallets.

Mrs. Ida Headlund opened with prayer, followed with a hymn, "Have Thine Own Way."

Mrs. Dorothy Gilbert conducted the study on "The Netherlands" and told of the missionary work there.

Mrs. Headlund was devotion leader and used the topic, "Joey and the People I'm With."

Mrs. Gilbert had closing prayer.

The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. Helen Beagle, co-hostess.

Next meeting is Oct. 8 with Mrs. Elaine Smith of Chester R. D. 1.

A going-away picnic was held Monday for John Barrett at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Dye of the Campground Rd.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Barrett of Westfield, he left Tuesday for the Army. He is to report to a camp in North Carolina.

Fifty attended the picnic.

Wellsville Society

Two tables of 500 were in play when the HGCLC Club met Monday night with Mrs. Wanda Henry of the Casting Club Rd.

Prize winners were Mrs. Carolyn Ketchum, first and travel; Mrs. Wilda Shafer, second, and Mrs. Martha Reight, low.

Miss Judy Reight was a guest. Secret pal birthday gifts were received by Mrs. Ruth Burrows and Mrs. Henry.

Each loser in cards was given a plaque by the hostess. Next meeting is Oct. 7 with Mrs. Helen Plate of Rubicon St., East Liverpool.

Wellsville Personals

Mrs. John Soldano and daughters, Misses Theresa and Joan, and son, John of Clover St., and Mrs. Cora Corak and daughter, Cristi Jo, of Maple Ave., have returned home from a visit at Long Island, N. Y. They attended the ceremony at which the former's niece, Miss Jessie Soldano (Sister Mary Claire) received her final vows of the convent. A daughter of Mrs. Sara Soldano of Long Island, former Wellsville resident, and a member of the Pallentine Order of Harriman, N. Y., Sister Mary Claire will be an instructor at a parochial school in Harlem.

Gary Lee Pelley of Main St. has concluded a week's visit with the Rev. William A. Hewitt of Newcomerstown, former pastor of the Central Methodist Church.

E. W. Urie and son, Warren J. Urie, of Broadway and daughter, Mrs. Charlotte Eccleston, of Center St. attended the Canfield Fair Monday.

Plans for a rummage sale Oct. 7-12 in East Liverpool's East End were made at a meeting of the Dorcas Circle Tuesday night at the First Methodist Church Memorial Center.

Plans were also aired for a public dinner Oct. 24 at the center.

Mrs. James Handley conducted devotions and the program topic, "Worship in a Nation's Life."

Mrs. Estella Baker gave prayer. Lunch was served 18 by Mrs. Charles Starr, Mrs. Earl Cunningham and Mrs. Robert Chapman. Next meeting is Oct. 1.

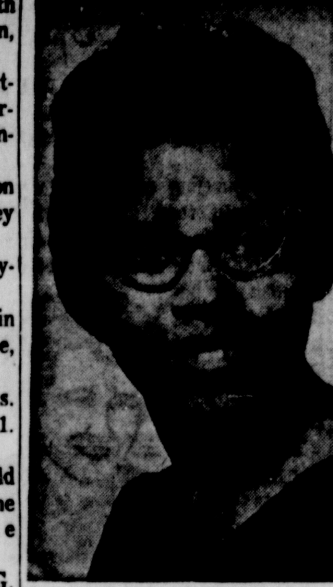

Mrs. Edward Crawford will be lesson leader at a meeting of the Elwood Farm Women's Club Friday night with Mrs. Eva Cecil of the Elwood District. Projects are to be turned in.

Mrs. Eleanor Huff and Mrs. Maxine Burch were named representatives to the Central Committee of the City Park at a meeting of Rock Springs Rebekah Lodge 244 Tuesday night at the IOOF Hall.

Plans were discussed for a rummage sale to be held in the near future and for a public card party in the fall.

Mrs. Helen Hobbs was appointed program chairman for the 12th anniversary of the Rebekah degree at the next meeting Sept. 17.

Lunch was served 20 by Mrs. Lenora Rice and committee.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Miss Ohio in the Miss America 1964 competition, Peggy Emerson of Akron, celebrated her 19th birthday Wednesday.

Miss Emerson shared a birthday cake with Sue Pickering, Miss Hawaii, who turned 18. The occasion, at rehearsal, gave the Miss America contestants a chance to tune up for talent tests by singing "Happy Birthday."

None of the girls ate any cake.

Program On Missionaries Given In 2 Parts For WSCS

A two - part program on the theme, "Missionary of Today," featured the meeting of the WSCS at the Pennsylvania Ave. Methodist Church Tuesday night in the social rooms.

Miss Lillian Miles was program chairman. The Miriam Circle was the hostess group.

The first part was entitled "Jesus Christ Is Unique and Supreme" and participants were Miss Ada Miles and Mrs. Opal Kountz. "The Kingdom of God is a Motive of Missions" was the topic of the second part with Judy and Bess Farnsworth and Mrs. Edith Buchheit taking part.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Nellie McIlvane with Mrs. Mahala Watson leading prayer. Group hymns were "The Kingdom Is Coming" and "Rescue of the Perishing." Miss Miles was pianist.

Business conducted by Mrs. Kountz, president, opened with prayer by Mrs. Dorothy Lawrence.

A number of members will visit the Carrollton Methodist Church Sept. 19.

A study course will begin Tuesday from 1:30 to 3 o'clock and will continue on Tuesdays for four weeks.

Mrs. Dorothy Anderson was nominated for student work.

A report on the WSCS meeting in the Steubenville Bellevue Methodist Church was given by Mrs. Lena Rea, Mrs. Julia Farnsworth, Mrs. Kountz and Mrs. Watson. The secretary and treasurer report was also heard.

A talk on Viet Nam was given by Mrs. Farnsworth, chairman of missions.

Tentative plans were made for a five-day service of prayer in the near future. The group also plans to compile a yearbook.

Get-well cards were signed for Mrs. Mabel Felton, Mrs. Olive Wright, Mrs. Lillian Woomer and Mrs. Pat Harris.

Next meeting is Oct. 7 at the church. Mrs. Mary Shenton and Mrs. Imogene Gilliland will be in charge of the program and worship. The Naomi Circle will be hostess group.

Midland Junior Women's Club To Mark Anniversary

Plans were completed for the 20 and the proceeds will be used to support entries from Pennsylvania in the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo. The committee includes Mrs. Donald Dilworth, Mrs. Maurice Newman and Mrs. James Vesco.

Beginning today and every other Thursday, Mrs. Richards will accompany other representatives of Beaver County clubs to Pittsburgh to view advance showings of new movies. The purpose is to discourage the showing of indecent movies in the county.

Mrs. Ivan Francis, ways and means chairman, announced the club will sponsor a rummage sale in the near future, the date to be announced.

Mrs. John Hineman Jr., yearbook chairman, distributed copies to members.

Mrs. James Vesco, president, presided.

Archeologist To Hunt For Tomb Of Moses

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Archeologist Julio Ripamonti said today he plans to spend the rest of his life digging in the wilderness around Devil's Ravine with hopes of finding Moses' tomb.

Ripamonti, professor at the Central University of Venezuela in Caracas, recently returned after a 50-day expedition to the ravine, at the foot of a hill named Roujoum Makhayyat about 20 miles south of Amman.

Ripamonti believes Roujoum Makhayyat, highest hill in the area, could be Mount Posgah from which the Bible says God showed Moses the Promised Land. Moses died before reaching the Promised Land and according to the Bible was buried in a valley.

Ripamonti believes Devil's Ravine may be the valley.

Man Held In Probe Of Stabbing Death

CINCINNATI (AP) — Charles Bailey, 47, was held today for investigation of a killing police say apparently happened after he refused a drinking companion's request for a 41-cent loan.

Officers said Bailey told them Hardy Davidson, 46, drew a knife and cut him Wednesday when he refused to lend him the money. Bailey then stabbed Davidson in the stomach.

PLEASE DON'T HURT MY LITTLE GIRL!

Yesterday, my 7 year old daughter started back to school. She was primped up in a blue dress with white collar, blue gloves and black shoes. "Scoot", her spaniel, sat on the porch and whined, as she waved goodbye.

Last night, we talked about school. About the new girl with yellow curls, about the big girls who didn't believe in Santa Claus, about the teacher with eyes in the back of her head. We talked about many vital things, studied Reading and Spelling, then, off to bed.

She's asleep now, with her doll "Princess" cuddled in her arm. As her mother, I'm worried. You see, I can fix things when she cuts her finger or bumps her head. But when she's off to school, crossing streets, she's in YOUR hands. You won't hurt her, will you?

She's sweet, precious, and we love her so. Runs like a deer, active as a chipmunk. Likes to swim and go on hikes with her Daddy. But, we can't be with her all the time.

PLEASE help us look out for her. PLEASE Drive Carefully, slowly past schools and intersections. And PLEASE remember that children do run from behind parked cars.

PLEASE DON'T HURT MY LITTLE GIRL!

If this Appeal will prevent only one accident, we will be amply rewarded. Let's all do our share to protect Our Children.

JOHN EIFERD, Pres.

Army Corps Cuts Its Operations At Lordstown

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 20th U.S. Army Corps has announced a drastic reduction of operations at Lordstown Military Reservation near Warren.

The Army said Wednesday that "the greater portion of the 523-acre reservation will become excess to Army needs. It will be offered to other military services to determine whether or not it is excess to all military requirements."

The announcement came with word that jurisdiction over the installation in Trumbull County is to be transferred from the 2nd Army to the Army Materiel Command. The Defense Supply Agency will assume responsibility shortly for the industrial plant equipment storage facility at Lordstown. Area support functions previously performed there will be transferred to other 2nd Army area bases.

Only 47 of the 229 civilian employees at the reservation will be kept on.

Lisbon Plant Offices Looted Of $30 In Cash

LISBON — An estimated $30 in cash was taken from the offices of the Lisbon Steel Fabricating, Inc., and Williams Trucking Co. on Grant St. sometime between 8 p. m. Wednesday and 6:50 a. m. today, according to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan.

Joseph Kusior of the fabricating firm called the sheriff's office after arriving for work this morning.

Deputies said the intruder broke a glass in office door to gain entrance then forced open a filing cabinet to get to the cash in two unlocked money boxes, one from each company.

Aide Of Late Senator Indicted For Perjury

NEW YORK (AP) — Roy M. Cohn was indicted Wednesday by a federal grand jury, charged with conspiring to obstruct justice and commit perjury.

Indicted with Cohn, former aide to the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy and former asst. U. S. attorney, was Murray E. Gottesman, also an attorney.

Both were accused of testifying false before the grand jury.

Rhodes To Speak At Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN — A resume of Gov. James Rhodes administration, with emphasis on urban renewal, will be given by the governor at a public meeting Monday morning at 10 at the Pick Ohio Hotel ballroom.

The governor and his cabinet will be at the session, at which the program affecting the Mahoning Valley area will be aired. A question-and-answer session will follow.

A press conference for the governor and cabinet members will be held at 8:30 a. m.

Weirton Area Studied As Site For Plant

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP) — The West Virginia Department of Commerce said Wednesday two Ohio firms, with an initial employment possibility of about 300 workers, have surveyed potential plant sites in the Wheeling-Weirton area.

A third firm is considering a heavy industrial installation employing about 350 in the north-state triangle area formed by the cities of Clarksburg, Parkersburg and Wheeling, the department reported.

Names of the firms were not announced.

Mother Tosses Brick, Spends Night In Jail

AURORA, Colo. (AP)—Police said that a mother of three threw a brick through the plate glass window of the Police Department Wednesday night.

The brick narrowly missed police dispatcher Raymond Wilson whose office was showered with glass.

The children of Evelyn Dorothy Gordon, 26, were cared for while she spent the night in jail.

Mrs. Gordon explained, "I just always wanted to do it."

Police Probe Slaying, Wounding Of Another

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police tried today to clear up a shooting in suburban Lincoln Heights that resulted in one man killed and another badly wounded.

Investigators said Frank Faulk, 72, and Otis Dean fired shotguns at each other Wednesday night. Faulk was killed and Dean was in serious condition.

Death Crash Survivor Shows Improvement

SALEM — Ansel McVicker, 25, of Chelsea, Okla., injured in an auto crash near Minerva Wednesday morning in which two fellow workers were killed, was in "fairly good" condition today at Alliance City Hospital.

Charles M. Grant, 27, of Glenwood, Ark., the driver, and Dennis Huntsley, 20, of Deer River, Minn., died in the mishap on Route 80 when the car veered from the highway, hit a culvert and utility pole and overturned. McVicker suffered leg and internal injuries. The three were employed by the Majestic Pipeline Co. of Houston, Tex., which is installing a line through Carroll and Columbiana Counties.

Hearings Set For Drivers

Hearings are pending for two motorists cited after mishaps Wednesday — one on Route 45 near Wellsville and the other on Route 7 near Rogers — the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

A car driven by Carl Rodney Latham, 16, of 815 Township Line Rd., Wellsville, sideswiped Berdine's oncoming 1961 sedan, causing considerable damage to the latter. Latham was charged with driving left of center.

Everett W. Jackson, 30, of Route 7, was cited for excessive speed after his car went out of control about four miles south of Rogers at 2:30 a. m. and veered from the road, rolling over.

He and a passenger, Burl Quinn, 27, of Clarkson, were unhurt. Officers said, but the 1950 sedan was demolished.

Jobs

Election Board, asking that his name be removed from the Nov. 5 ballot. However, the board declined the request, pointing out the deadline for withdrawals already had passed.

A wave of transfers and other job changes within the Highway Department began earlier in the year when Gov. James A. Rhodes' Republican administration assumed office, replacing Michael V. DiSalle, Democrat.

"The reason we're pushing this case is that they have transferred our people all over the state, trying to make it so unpleasant for them that they will resign," Gosney said.

Gosney said at least five men employed under Civil Service as truck drivers in the Highway Department in Columbiana County have been transferred to jobs in other areas. They have been sent to spots in Belmont County and jobs at Cadiz, New Philadelphia and Millersburg, which is in Holmes County, he said.

"One man who was transferred to New Philadelphia had to quit his job because he has a large family and could not afford the expense of driving back and forth such a long distance every day," Gosney said.

Although Whitehouse never has taken an examination for the Highway Department job, holding it on a provisional status, he still is subject to state Civil Service rules barring workers in the classified service from engaging in political activity, Gosney declared.

Gosney said no such wave of transfers of Highway Department personnel occurred in the last four state administrations — both Republican and Democratic — a span totaling 18 years.

He said there were no wholesale changes in the department's jobs under C. William O'Neill, Republican, Frank J. Lausche, Democrat, Thomas Herbert, Republican, or DiSalle.

"This is the first time it has happened in at least 18 years," he said.

Schools

quelled, the talks between representatives of Wallace and the school board began.

There already had been brief disorders Wednesday at two of the three schools to be desegregated. And six parents had filed suit, with Wallace's blessing, to try to win a stay of the integration.

After the night of negotiations, Wallace in Montgomery issued a brief statement, saying:

"I have tonight asked the city Board of Education of Birmingham to close until further notice schools at West End, Ramsay and Graymont.

"The board has acceded to my request and the schools will be closed temporarily.

"The board has also agreed at my request to join in the petition filed yesterday to stay the federal court order integrating these three schools."

It was at Graymont, an elementary school, that two Negro brothers registered Wednesday. They would have started classes this morning with white children.

Three other Negro pupils were to register and begin classes today at West End and Ramsay, both high schools.

Details of the school closings were left to Supt. Theo Wright. There remained a question of what results the closing of the three schools would bring in this city, already jittery from the violence and months of racial troubles.

When the outbreak came Wednesday night, Wallace alerted 500 to 600 National Guardsmen for possible duty here and offered to make another 3,000 Guardsmen available. Local police officials said the situation was under control without the help.

The city bulged with police.

About 600 state troopers were on standby in Birmingham but were not requested by local authorities to help keep order in Wednesday night's outbreak and disorders during the day when white segregationists demonstrated.

Six white parents asked a federal judge for an injunction against integration of the schools because of violence. District Judge Walter P. Gwin of Tuscaloosa took the petition under advisement, giving no indication when he would rule. Wallace said his office helped prepare the suit.

In Huntsville, Ala., 12 white children quietly segregated a previously Negro parochial school operated by the Roman Catholic Church. It was the first known integration of an elementary school in Alabama.

The Justice Department was officially silent on developments in Birmingham. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy huddled with aides for several strategy sessions.

Wallace said in a long-distance telephone speech to a states rights meeting Wednesday night in Baton Rouge, La., that "we have another example of the federal government trying to take over our school system."

Wallace ordered units of the National Guard alerted shortly after the disorders in the area around the blast-damaged home of Negro attorney Arthur D. Shores.

The explosion came at about 9:45 p.m. Shores, his wife and 17-year-old daughter were in the fashionable brick house, still under repair from a worse explosion less than three weeks ago.

District Gridders Get Foot Into Ball With 11 Games Launching Campaign

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

It's show time for the district's high school grid- ders as 12 of the 14 teams in the area launch their 1963 football seasons this weekend.

The season steps off to a fast start with seven games scheduled Friday night while four others will go to the post Saturday.

A feature of the Wellsville-Beaver battle set Fri- day night at Wellsville's Nicholson Stadium is Beaver's long winning streak.

The Pennsylvanians are unbeaten in 30 regular season games. The last defeat suffered by the Bobcats was a 14-7 loss to Sewickley Area High School in the 1960 WPIAL CLASS A championship game.

Wellsville came close to upsetting the Beaver eleven in 1962 before losing a 13-7 verdict after the Tigers had the tying touchdown called back.

Coach Ken Woods, opening his sixth season at Wellsville, will be working with some inexperienced material since the Tigers lost 13 lettermen by gradu- ation.

Oak Glen puts its first football team on the Field Friday night at Newell, opposing what is expected to be a strong St. Mary's eleven.

The game will mark Bob Starkey's debut as a head football coach. Kickoff at Newell is set for 8 p. m.

Stanton Local, following a 6-1-1 record last sea- son, will dedicate its new stadium Friday night with Hopedale as the opponent.

Hopedale was the only team to defeat the Red Raiders last season, that loss coming in the opening game.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1963 PAGE 12

The Midland Leopards are at home Friday and are favored to defeat the new McKeesport Serra High School in a contest which will get underway at 8 p. m.

The McKeesport school is a Catholic high school with an enrollment of 400 students and does not have a senior class. The squad will be made up of sopho- mores and juniors.

In other games Friday, Lisbon, with 12 lettermen back in the fold, travels to Carrollton in a warmup game before Tri-County League play opens. Canfield faces an improved East Palestine team as Rey Dempsey starts his third year at the helm of the Bulldogs. The game is set for East Palestine. Salem opens its season Friday at home against Cleveland Lincoln.

The Beaver Local - East Liverpool battle, with revenge written all over it, draws the spotlight Satur- day night at Patterson Field.

The Potters still can't forget the loss to a determind bunch of Beavers last season. The contest will mark the debut of Beaver Local coach Ed Stevens.

An inter-county battle Saturday afternoon finds Leetonia at United while Greenford goes to Southern Local.

Crestview launches its season Saturday at Mineral Ridge. The Rebels became one of the most improved teams in the area last season. After losing its first three games, the Rebels came back to win its last five in a row.

Only South Side High School at Hookstown and Columbiana will wait until next week to open their seasons. South Side will play at Avalon in a Thursday night contest and Columbiana plays host to Youngstown North next Friday.

YOUR GUESS as to who won this argument is probably right. Los Angeles manager Bill Rigney shakes his pointing finger at first base umpire Ed Hurley after Hurley called a balk against Angel pitcher Fred Newman. In making his points well under- stood, Hurley shakes his forefinger back at Rigney. (UPI Tele- photo)

Hubbs' Two-Out Single Nips Dodgers, 2-1

Cards Edge Mets; Trail By 5 Games

By The Associated Press
In the big book of baseball strategy you walk a guy like Billy Williams to get at Ken Hubbs. So the Dodgers did.

Their National League lead is now down to five games over second-place St. Louis.

Hubbs, who led the league in strikeouts with 129 last year and was equally proficient at hitting into doubleplays, crossed up the book Wednesday night by lining a two-out single in the 11th inning that gave the Chicago Cubs a 2-1 decision over first-place Los Angeles.

The Dodgers' board of strategy held its meeting after Andre Rodgers led off the 11th with a single and moved around to second on a sacrifice. With two out, it was decided to give Williams—who outbats Hubbs by about 50 points—an intentional walk.

That decision lopped a full game off the Dodgers' lead over the surging Cardinals, who extended their longest winning streak of the season to seven games as Ken Boyer's 100th run batted in provided the decisive score in a 6-5 victory over the New York Mets.

Milwaukee's Warren Spahn grabbed part of the spotlight with a sparkling four-hit, 1-0 victory over Pittsburgh that gave him 19 victories for the season, the 60th shutout of his career and seventh place on the all-time list of win- ners with 346 triumphs.

In other games, Willie McCovey hit his 35th homer and Orlando Cepeda collected No. 26 as San Francisco walloped Houston 8-3 and pitcher Dennis Bennett provided the go-ahead run in Philadelphia's 3-2 decision over Cincinnati.

The Cubs opened the scoring against the Dodgers in the sixth on singles by Rodgers and Ellis Burton and a sacrifice fly by Ron Santo. The Dodgers tied it in their half on doubles by Jim Gilliam and Tommy Davis.

It stayed that way until the 11th when Hubbs stroked his decisive hit and wound up the night with a sparkling defensive play. The slick-fielding second baseman who set a major league record for most consecutive errorless games last year with 78, bailed re- liever Lindy McDaniel, 11-6, out of a hole in the bottom of the 11th when he fielded Willie Davis' grounder with one out and nailed Marv Breeding trying to score from third base. McDaniel then got Lee Walls on a fly to end it.

Stan Musial drove in three runs with a two-run homer and a sacri- fice fly as the Cardinals built a 5-1 lead. The Mets rallied for four runs in the top of the sev- enth with Ed Kranepool's fourth hit producing the tie. Then, in the bottom half, NL batting leader Dick Groat doubled and Boyer fol- lowed with the decisive hit. Sam Jones, 2-0, got the victory, Larry Bearnarth, 3-7, the loss.

Player Leads Field

Into Utah Open Today
SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—South Africa's Gary Player led 149 pro- fessionals and 11 amateurs into the first round of the 40,000 Utah Open Invitational Golf Tourna- ment today.

Player is the only one of golf- dom's Big Three in the tourney on the par-70, 6,984-yard course at the Salt Lake Country Club.

The others, Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, are playing with Julius Boros and Bob Charles in the World Series of Golf Saturday and Sunday at Akron, Ohio.

The Utah Open field will be cut to the low 70s after the second round Friday.

Maris Homers For Yankee Win

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
One wave of Roger Maris' wand did the trick and now the magic number is 11.

Maris pulled the game out of the hat in the last of the ninth inning with a two-run homer, lift- ing the New York Yankees to a 5-4 victory Wednesday over Wash- ington.

A few hours later, Minnesota nosed into second place in the American League by beating the Los Angeles Angels 4-2 after Kan- sas City had swept a pair from

Twins Take Over 2nd Spot

the Chicago White Sox, 4-2 and 7-3.

The results reduced the Yanks' magic number to 11—any combi- nation of New York victories and Minnesota losses totaling 11 will mean the Bombers' 28th pennant. The Yankees are 12½ games ahead with 22 to go, the Twins have 23 to play. Chicago, now 13 out, has 22 games left.

Don't look for any surprises.

Also in the AL—Phil Regan won again, Al Kaline took over the league batting lead and Rocky Colavito batted in three runs as Detroit's streaking Tigers whipped Boston 6-1; and Baltimore over- came Cleveland 6-5 on the first grand slam homer of Luis Aparicio's eight-year major league career.

Hard-throwing Jim Bouton, gun- ning for his 20th victory, was bombed for three homers—including a two-run blow by Senator pitcher Claude Osteen — and the Yanks trailed 4-3 going into the last of the ninth.

But they have a way turning these things around, and Maris applied the crusher this time with his 20th homer after a leadoff walk to Elston Howard. That made a winner out of Steve Ham- iltan, a loser out of Osteen.

Ed Brinkman and Don Lock had the other Washington homers.

Angel rookie Fred Newman made it easy for the Twins, wild pitching in one run and balking across Minnesota's clincher. Lefty Dick Stigman beat Los Angeles for the fourth straight time, squaring his record at 14-14 with a seven-hitter.

STRETCHING Frank Froehling III of Coral Gables, Fla., makes a net return during his match in which he upset Australia's Roy Emerson Wednesday at Forest Hills, N. Y. Froehling earned a berth in the quarter-finals of the U.S. Tennis Championships. (UPI Telephoto)

Field Dedication Set For Stanton

Stanton Local High School's new football stadium, which will be used for the first time at the opening game Friday night, will be dedicated prior to the kickoff.

The field is located next to the high school at Hammondsville.

The ceremony will begin at 7:30 p. m., according to Supt. C. P. Henderson.

Richard Seevers will make the remarks of appreciation from the student body. Don McBride, foot- ball coach, will speak for the coaching staff.

Harry Swartzlander, high school principal, will represent the school. Ray B. Roshan, Jefferson County superintendent, will speak briefly and Dr. W. S. Banfield, will give the response.

The opening game will be against Hopedale High. Stanton Local's Band will be appearing in their new uniforms.

The stadium has a seating ca- pacity of 1,600. It features new lights and a race track. Work has been going on for two years. It will replace the old field at Irondale.

Commissioner Makes Sportsmanship Plea As High School Season Opens

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's high school footballers will kick off the 1963 campaign this week- end, spurred by a plea from Commissioner Paul Landis to ob- serve the rules of sportsmanship.

Some 35,000 youngsters, making up 685 teams, are in the scholastic pigskin parade. All have an eye

"With all the national and inter- national tensions which exist to- day, it is particularly important for our high school athletes and spectators to conduct themselves at the highest levels of good sportsmanship.

"We hope each school and com- munity will set an example for others to follow.

"A new season brings with it new hopes and ambitions for a successful season in sports. We wish all schools a successful sea- son, with good interschool rela- tions in evidence at all times.

"But, regardless of how the ball bounces—let's all be good sports."

Along with the perennial stand- outs, the usual darkhorses are cer- tain to pop up in the state title race, and only the 16-game cam- paign can clear up the picture. Teams in Toledo, Akron, Cinci- nati and Dayton may play 11 games this year due to early-schedule commitments, but the others are limited to 10 regular contests or one preview and nine games.

Canton McKinley, twice winner of the crown, is back in good graces again after a year's sus- pension on charges of luring a couple of Portsmouth players to the Bulldog fold. The Stark Coun- ty powerhouse is certain to chal- lenge the favorites, especially many-time champion, Massillon.

The South, winner of the last three All-Star games, is rapidly gaining prestige and possibly could find one of its member schools on the scholastic throne for the first time.

Springfield South's Wildcats, with 18 lettermen and 22 minor award winners back, could be the best in Rebel territory. The big experiment at Middletown, where noted cage Coach Paul Walker has taken over the grid reins, lost some of its glamor last week when Paul Walker Jr., the coach's son and ace quarterback, suffered a broken arm and is out for the year.

Walker, long ago grid mentor at Portsmouth, added the Middle football chore to his cage duties when veteran Glenn (Tiger) Eli- son moved up to Ohio State—and Paul's efforts were statewide eye- catchers.

Gold Bar, Chester VFW Meet In Tourney Finals

Gold Bar of Salem battled its way into the finals of the Ches- ter Softball Tournament Wednes- day night with a 5-4 victory over Gallagher's Market.

The triumph sends the Salem nine against Chester VFW tonight in the finals of the two-week long tournament. Gold Bar must de- feat Chester twice since the VFW squad is undefeated in the tour- ney. The first game is set for 7 p. m. tonight and the second will be played at 8:45 if neces- sary.

Practice Round Set In Golf World Series

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Steady Julius Boros, spectacular Arnold Palmer, strongboy Jack Nicklaus and southpaw Bob Charles tee off today for a practice round in the 36-hole World Series of Golf, which will be played Saturday and Sun- day.

The fancy foursome, who will be firing for the $50,000 first prize, plan another practice round Fri- day before playing for keeps.

Nicklaus, the 23-year-old former Ohio State University golfing ace, won the big pot last year with a 135, beating Palmer and Gary Player by four strokes in the in- augural event.

Gold Bar took a 3-2 lead in the sixth inning of last night's game on a two-run homer by Lefty Miller. Gallagher's came back with two runs in the last of the sixth when Boston singled home two markers.

Jim Eckstein became the hero for Gold Bar when he slammed a two-run homer in the first of the seventh. Milish was the win- ning pitcher in relief and Thomp- son was the loser.

Corum Sends W.Va. Varsity At Freshmen

JACKSON'S MILL, W.Va. (AP)—West Virginia University Football Coach Gene Corum planned to scrimmage his varsity against the freshman team today, trying to prepare for the season's opener Sept. 21 against Navy.

Corum said he would take a look at his team's offensive patterns.

Yesterday, the Mountaineers scrimmaged lightly in the morning and worked during the afternoon on blocking and tackling and defense.

"We are about where we were at this time last year as far as training is concerned," Corum said.

Two freshmen were the only casualties after yesterday's practice. Pat Buratti, a tackle from Pittsburgh, and Dick Stockunas, a fullback from Beaver Falls, Pa., both received cuts during the head-knocking session. They required several stitches between them, but the injuries were not serious.

Trainer A. C. Whitey Gwynne assigned 14 players to the "fat man's table" to control their weight. Among them were possible starter Roger Alford at guard, center Pete Goimaras, tackle Joe Pabian and fullback Dick Leftridge.

Corum's chief worry continued to be his tackles where WVU had little depth. Bernie Carney is a sure starter and considered one of the top players on the team. Pabian is a leading candidate at the other tackle spot, but after those two nothing is certain.

Only 2 Frosh May Remain With Browns

CLEVELAND (AP)—Of the 25 rookies who came to the Cleveland Browns' training camp almost two months ago, only two seem assured of sticking with the squad.

The lucky two are defensive halfback Larry Benz of North-western and defensive tackle Jim Kanicki of Michigan State. Five other freshmen are still on the squad, but their status is shaky.

The quintet who may not survive the final cutdown to 37 before the National Football League starts play are guard Tom Goosby of Baldwin-Wallace, ends Tom Hutchinson of Kentucky and Clifton McNeil of Grambling, fullback Frank Baker of Toledo and offensive tackle Roger Shoals of Maryland.

Patterson Field Gets Face Lifting

The East Liverpool High School Key Club is putting the finishing touches on a major face lifting project at Patterson Field.

This new concession stand, shown above, the major part of the project, will be operating night when East Liverpool opens its 1963 football season against Beaver Local.

AIDED by several local merchants and builders, the Key Club has expanded the present running track from 400 yards to the regulation 440 yards, a necessity, if East Liverpool is ever to host any major track and field events such as the county or district meets.

Within the newly cleared area, the club has completed a modern concession stand with over 100 feet of serving space to better accommodate fans.

TWO NEW concrete ramps also have been added to make a better entrance to the area. Also included in the plans will be the re-location of the present power bank following the football season, and the eventual installation of modern transformers giving the stadium more than enough lighting capacity for years to come.

THE TOTAL project would cost nearly $10,000 but that total was cut somewhat through the cooperation of several firms and individuals including Sayre Electric Co., The Milliron Co., Pottery Lumber, Burbick's Hardware, Milligan's Pipe Shop, Mike Pusateri's Excavating, The Ohio Power Co., Bell Telephone Co., T. K. Roofing, City of East Liverpool, Crucible

Steel Co. and the Sherwin-Williams Paint Co.

SEVERAL organizations which offered financial backing to the project include the Lady Potter Booster Club, ELHS Band Mothers, The Coca-Cola Bottling Co., Nonpareil Club and the High School Athletic Association.

Tom Chema is chairman for the Key Club while Earl Broadbent, local contractor, is coordinating the project with assistance from Winston Coburn, Delmas Sanford, Bill Fletcher, Andy Hester and Jack Rogers.

U.S. Course Seen Tough To Visitors

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—The top players on the Mexican and Canadian amateur golf teams which challenged the United States today in the start of the Americas' Cup matches say the course may be too tough for them to whip the Yanks.

"The course plays awfully long," Juan Estrada, leading Mexican player, said Wednesday after flags of the three countries were raised in ceremonies at the Wakonda Country Club course. "The greens are good but the course is very hard. I would settle for par on any round and see if anyone could beat me."

Gary Cowan, leader of the Canadian team, echoed Estrada's comments.

Both Cowan and Estrada said their best rounds in practice for the biennial event were 75s on the par 72 course, on which the National Amateur will be played next week.

Lebron Harris Jr. of Enid, Okla., who was paired in the same best-ball sixsome with Cowan, said he felt the course was tough but could be mastered.

The United States has won all six matches and is heavily favored this year.

Reds' Sign Hutch's Son

CINCINNATI (AP)—There are now two Hutchinsons in the Cincinnati Reds organization.

The baseball club announced Wednesday it has signed four new rookies, including Manager Fred Hutchinson's 18-year-old son Jack.

Manager Hutchinson was a pitcher and a good one, but Jack plays first base. He played that position last summer for the Mantee High School team of Bradenton, Fla., which won the state championship.

One of Jack's teammates, 18-year-old third baseman Charles Willey, also signed a Reds contract. Willey is a native of Newark, Ohio. Both will go to Cincinnati's farm club at Cedar Rapids, along with Lonnie Campbell, 20, a left-handed pitcher from Cincinnati.

Bob Conte, 18, Duquoin, Ill., also signed a Reds contract and will pitch for their Tampa farm club.

BASEBALL HEROES

Spahn Has Statisticians Busy Revising Records

By DAVE O'HARA

Associated Press Sports Writer
MILWAUKEE (AP) — Warren Spahn, an old warhorse kicking up his heels like a frisky colt, considers himself lucky as he keeps statisticians working overtime in revising the baseball record books.

The 42-year-old Milwaukee southpaw who has shaken off elbow trouble twice in the last two months forced another wholesale rewrite of pitching records Wednesday night as he blanked the Pittsburgh Pirates 1-0 on a four-hitter.

"It's better to be lucky than good," Spahn said with a broad grin after assuming sole ownership of seventh place among all-time winners with his 346th National League victory and No. 19 of the season.

Spahn explained that many things have been going his way despite the elbow trouble this year. As an example, he pointed to the eighth inning when the Pirates loaded the bases with just one out.

Sportswriter Files Assault Charge Against Vada Pinson

CINCINNATI (AP)—Earl Lawson and Vada Pinson haven't gotten along for some time. Now the Cincinnati Reds' center fielder is up for a hearing on an assault and battery charge filed by the sportswriter.

Pinson allegedly grabbed Lawson's shirt Wednesday night in the Reds' clubhouse after Cincinnati dropped a 3-2 decision to Philadelphia. The quarrel involved an article in Tuesday's Cincinnati Post & Times-Star that said Pinson does not bunt enough and may lose the National League's batting crown as a result.

"He grabbed me by the shirt and pushed me up against the wall," said Lawson, who was slapped by Pinson once last year. "I walked away from the clubhouse and found a phone and called police."

Pinson was booked and released

5 Of Olympic Squad To Drill With Royals

CINCINNATI (AP)—Five members of the 1960 U.S. Olympic basketball team will be on hand when the Cincinnati Royals start their pre-season training this month.

General Manager Pepper Wilson announced Wednesday that Jay Arnette, former University of Texas star, has joined the National Basketball Association club.

The Royals' other Olympic veterans are Oscar Robertson, Bob Boozer, Adrian Smith and three-time All-America Jerry Lucas.

Lucas signed a contract with the Royals recently after rejecting an offer a year ago.

The Royals will train again this year at Lockbourne Air Force Base near Columbus.

Of Lehigh's 51 football candidates reporting to Coach Mike Cooley, 12 are lettermen.

100,000th Major Loop Game To Be Observed

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thanks to comedian Jerry Lewis and his ballplaying buddies, the Washington Senators are scheduled to take part in a baseball milestone Friday—the 100,000th major league game.

For Senator fans, who have seen their team tied for last in 1961, last in 1962 and last all this season, any distinction is appreciated.

Lewis will lead a band of Hollywood All-Stars in a pregame exhibition against a team of Washington press, radio and television personalities. The game will delay for 20 minutes the start of the Washington-Cleveland game. Otherwise the Milwaukee at Philadelphia game might have qualified for the honor.

Senators officials had scheduled Lewis and his team—including singers Pat Boone and Fabian, Phillip and Dennis Crosby, and Hugh O'Brian—in hopes of jacking up the team's sagging attendance figures. Word that they'd play the majors' 100,000th game caught them flatfooted. Said one official:

"If we'd have known about this earlier, we'd have scheduled appropriate ceremonies. We might have arranged to give something away, something symbolic."

At last report, Senator officials were busily thumbing through references trying to find out how you celebrate the playing of baseball's 100,000th game.

Froehling Pulls Tennis Upset, Defeats Emerson

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer
FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—The back of the Australian tennis dynasty is broken—and some of the most telling licks were dealt by a stringbean cannonballer from Florida anxious to avenge a big snub.

"It was the greatest tennis I ever played, and I couldn't have picked a better time to play it," Frank Froehling III of Coral Gables, Fla., said excitedly Wednesday night after pulling off one of the biggest upsets of the year.

He knocked out Roy Emerson of Australia, rated the world's No. 1 amateur, with an explosive serve and volleying attack in the fourth round of the National championships 6-4, 4-6, 9-7, 6-2. Although second-ranked nationally, Froehling had been overlooked by Davis Cup selectors and the seeding committee this year.

The victory erased the last Australian from the field, marking the first time since 1950 that Australia has been shut out of the men's quarter-finals at Forest Hills.

It puts an entirely different aspect on the Davis Cup challenge round, to be contested in December in Adelaide, Australia. Going into the quarter-finals, half of which will be contested today, are four Americans, Froehling, Marty Riessen, Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston; two Brazilians, Ronald Barnes and Thomas Koch; Mexico's Rafael Osuna and England's talented but erratic Bobby Wilson.

Wilson, who smashed young

Jurgensen, Hill Leave Over Salary

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—The sudden and unexpected walkout of quarterbacks Sonny Jurgensen and King Hill from training camp over a football salary dispute has launched the Philadelphia Eagles into a desperate search for a quarterback.

Although the two players were scheduled to meet with Eagles' General Manager Vince McNally today in Philadelphia, one club spokesman said, "The wires are hot" in the search for a backup signal caller in case Jurgensen and Hill fail to settle their dispute with the team by Saturday.

The Eagles' exhibition season ends then against the New York Giants at Princeton. Championship play begins Sept. 15.

Jurgensen, the key to the Eagles offense which in the past few years has relied heavily on passing, and Hill, the team's punter and only other quarterback, left Wednesday without notifying team officials. They said they had been unsuccessful even in getting to talk to McNally about contract terms.

Jurgensen reportedly wants $30,000 for this season. He earned in excess of $25,000 last year. Hill reportedly was fighting a cut in last year's salary, estimated at $20,000.

Foe In Series Opener

By The Associated Press
The Indianapolis Indians rolled over Syracuse 11-2 Wednesday night in the opening game of a best-of-seven series between the International League division champions.

A contest between Toronto and Atlanta in the runners-up division was postponed because of rain. The winners of each best-of-seven series will meet in the Governor's Cup playoffs.

Frank Kreutzer and Warren Hacker combined to give Indianapolis a two-hitter.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is employed at a large industrial plant. He has a college degree, is brilliant in his work and has been invited to attend several executive meetings, so it is apparent the brass in the company values his judgment.

In the last three years he has been overlooked twice for promotion to an executive position. He could have handled either of these positions well and was disappointed when he was passed over.

I feel the reason he was passed over is because he is careless about his appearance. I must nag him to get his hair cut and his shoes shined. He wears sport shirts to the office—and it's a battle to get him to buy a new suit.

When I told him this he became annoyed and insisted that the business world of men is not a fashion show and ability is the only thing that counts. May we hear from you on this? — AT ODDS.

Dear At: There are very few Albert Einsteins around whose brilliance makes them acceptable anywhere in a turtle-neck sweater.

Appearance DOES count in business and the man who ignores this fact of life hurts himself.

If your husband wants to be an executive he'd better start to look like one.

Mother's Dilemma

Dear Ann: Before my son left for the West Coast last January he told me he had fathered a child. The girl (I will call her Ruby) married another man five months before the child was born. Ruby confessed to this man that the child was not his.

I have never met the girl, nor have I seen the baby, but Ruby has sent my son pictures. The child is beautiful and looks so much like my own boy that I can hardly stand it.

Would it be wrong for me to send gifts? I want very much to do this because I feel the baby is my own flesh and blood.

I have promised my son I would not breathe a word to anyone, not even my husband, and I have kept my promise. Please help me do what is right. I'm lost in a jungle of conflicting emotions. A.R.P.

Dear A.R.P.: Ruby should not be sending your son pictures of the baby and he should not have passed the pictures on to you.

The man who married Ruby is legally the father of her child. He must be a mighty fine person to have accepted the situation. Your son owes it to him (and to the child) to stay out of their lives. And this goes for you, too.

Bride And Gloom

Dear Ann: Several weeks ago

a girl who works in this department came up to me and said, "I have been told you have a beautiful voice and that you sing at weddings."

I thanked her for the compliment. She then asked me if I would sing at her wedding and I agreed.

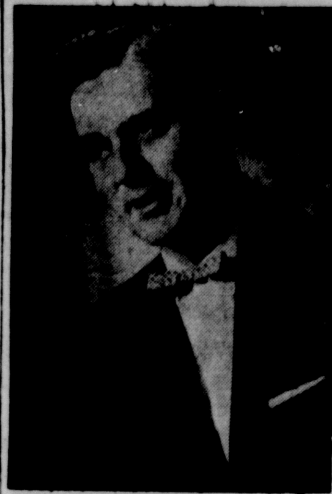

The wedding was three weeks ago and the girl is now back from her honeymoon. She has told me twice that I added a great deal to her wedding and has thanked me profusely. But she has said nothing about paying me.

I'm not a close friend of hers and I had no idea she meant this to be a favor. My sister accompanied me at the piano and we usually get $50 for such a performance. Would it be right to send her a bill?—High C.

Dear C: It's too late, dear. Now is no time to let her know it was no "favor." The terms should have been settled before the wedding.

A verbal thank you is not enough. If the girl accepted your services as a favor she should have sent you a gift. But, of course, you can't ask for that either.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Youth Worker, Evangelist Due At Boyce Church

Dr. Gilbert Williams of Haddonfield, N. J., president of the National Association of Evangelists of the Methodist Church, will be speaker for evangelistic services at the Boyce Methodist Church. Services will be held tonight through Sept. 15.

The series will be held nightly at 7:30 with the exception of Saturday. Joe Crouse of Wilmore, Ky., will be the singer and youth worker.

The Rev. Ronald Reaie, pastor, said a nursery will be available nightly.

East End Man Injures Head

An East End man injured in a fall Wednesday night was among seven area adults and youngsters treated at City Hospital.

Leland McCracken, 40, of 1059 Monaca St. was treated at 9 for a head injury received when his foot apparently caught in a chain and he fell backwards at a friend's home, hospital authorities were told.

Mrs. Gladys Young of R. D. 3 was treated last night for an injury to the left thumb when caught in a car door.

While washing dishes, Mrs. Betty Payne, 20, of 1044 Pennsylvania Ave. suffered a laceration of the right hand.

Billy Joe Davis, son of Mrs. Grace Davis, 820 Daisy Alley, received an ankle injury which he twisted while walking.

Donald Talbott, 14, son of Mrs. Donna Talbott, 715 Avondale St., suffered a cut of the left hand on a register at Westgate School.

Henry Swickhard, 22, of Mingo Junction, employee of a beverage concern, suffered a cut of the left hand on a bottle.

College Dean Dies

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Mother Rita Mary, dean of the College of the Holy Names and a former provincial superior of the Eastern Province of the Sisters of the Holy Names, died Wednesday after a brief illness. ## Newell Legion Given Award

An award for child welfare work was received and plans for entering teams in a bowling league were discussed at a meeting of Newell American Legion Post 114 Wednesday night.

Donad DeLong, chairman of the entertainment committee, announced the formation of two teams the post will sponsor in a bowling league.

William Gamble, child welfare officer, accepted for the post the annual citation for outstanding work in child welfare. The award, made by the National Child Welfare Commission of the American Legion, was presented by George LaNeve, commander.

Gamble and Larry Rush, service officer, reported on the convalescence and rehabilitation of several area veterans.

The post also authorized a donation to the Child Counseling Center. Next meeting is Sept. 18.

Johnson Talks 75 Minutes With Sweden Premier

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson spent 75 minutes in talks with Premier Tage Erlander today and then told newsmen: "It was an excellent meeting."

The two statesmen, who clearly have developed personal bonds of friendship, ranged over the international scene in a private session.

Johnson told a news conference in his hotel suite: "We had a useful and instructive meeting between friendly representatives of friendly governments. It was not a negotiating meeting, but we spoke frankly about the world's economic and political problems."

The vice president's mission to Scandinavia, which began in Sweden and will continue through Finland, Norway and Denmark, is basically a goodwill tour.

OIL TO MAKE STEEL

Oil is a vital factor in rolling steel and Midland works consumes thousands of gallons annually.

Purchased locally, oil is one product of thousands which Crucible buys in order to make and sell steel. Last year, for example, the company bought more than $4 million worth of materials and supplies from over 100 business concerns in the greater Midland area. An even larger sum was paid for utilities — gas, water, electricity.

As a big consumer Crucible adds to the stability of the valley's economy, important to us all.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Crouse —

Dear Folks: — I have received many, many letters from folks who complain that the stem of their electric coffee pots corrode and wear out. They always get "crusty" on the bottom, etc. . . they're expensive!

I have tested coffee percolators for three weeks. I couldn't believe these complaints when they started coming in. I perked coffee in two electric coffee pots and one on-top-of-the-stove coffee pot. Here's what I found. . .

As long as the inside stem (that's the gadget that holds the basket where you put the coffee grounds) is aluminum take extra care of it.

The longer it stays in the coffee (after it's brewed) the more corroded and crusty it's going to get! After your coffee is perked, . . . remove the stem and wash it.

One can buy commercial coffee pot cleaners and perk it through a cycle, following "Joe Blow's" directions on the can. This will remove most of it and clean the coffee pot at the same time.

Also, do NOT leave perked coffee in the pot overnight. Pour it into a Thermos bottle or a fruit jar and put it in your refrig.

Here's a quickie way to test coffee yourself:

Leave a pot of coffee overnight. Heat it the next morning and then make a fresh pot. Compare the two! Wow! You'll never believe the difference until you taste it.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: For those who have small children and find that those "tiny" socks get lost in the washing machine . . . make a bag out of Heloise's famous nylon net and put the little socks in it. I put a drawstring along the top of my sock bag and just drop it into the machine.

Presto, no more little socks left in the machine to go through another bout with my agitator.

MOTHER OF TWO.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a blessed relief for housewives on their feet all day:

Place a 10 cent foam rubber powder puff in each heel of a pair of shoes which are a little too big for you. Cut to fit if your heel is especially narrow.

For tender callouses, just cut a hole in the middle of the sponge

. . . It beats all the market preparations I've ever tried. These sponges can be cut in half to make them thinner if your shoes are tight. Best to use these methods in old stretched shoes.

MARY SHEA.

Oh, Ho, Readers

Guess what I just discovered? It's a way to freshen stale biscuits, bread, donuts and old sweet rolls which are too hard to be enjoyed but yet you don't want to throw away.

Put them in a plastic box or a big fruit jar, dampen a paper napkin quite well . . . lay on top of the rolls and put the lid on tight. Leave it overnight and they're great!

I'm stunned. Later these can be put in the oven, eaten as is or toasted and they're heavenly!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Our fireplace is artificial. I covered it with contact paper and have been doing so for years.

I change the paper about every three to five years and it always looks nice. So easy to keep.

and usually approved most requests, he noted. Such action invited unnecessary spending, Krabach said.

But now department heads must justify such requests to the Finance Department before they reach the board, he explained. Krabach expects the procedure to reduce tedious work of the board and keep spending within bounds while maintaining functions.

Such control, he adds, eliminates any fund cushion in departments and puts the cushion under the finance chief to deal with emergencies.

By making the system work, Krabach confidently predicts that the state can pay off its back bills and return to a current fiscal basis without increased taxes.

Time will tell, he adds.

Collision Kills 2

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—Two fruit pickers were killed Wednesday when their car and a Nickel Plate Road freight train collided at a crossing 1½ miles west of here. They were Alex Patton, 31, of Ashtabula and Donald G. Westbrook Jr., 21, of Conneaut.

Ohio's Departments Operate Within ½% Of Monthly Fund

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Control over state spending is causing Ohio's various departments of government to operate within one-half per cent of their month-to-month budgets, Finance Director Richard Krabach said today.

Department reports for August were on his desk upon return from the Labor Day weekend.

Normally reports would trickle in 30 days or more after the end of the previous month.

Since taking office in mid-January, Krabach has been speeding up financial reports by use of data processing to keep the administration's austerity program intact.

"If we can hold to this schedule, and I think we can," he said, "we will be in good shape financially."

He asserted that month-to-month controls eliminate the tendency of departments to spend whatever funds may be on hand at the end of quarterly allotments made by the legislature.

"Spending isn't necessarily the answer to government," Krabach maintains.

"Government is supposed to carry out its functions with the money appropriated after careful budgeting. Additional spending must be avoided unless necessity is demonstrated."

In the past, requests for transfer of department funds from one quarter to the next were made to the Controlling Board.

The board heard only one side of the arguments for more money

Body Found In Car Believed That Of Ohio Rackets Figure
CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Dominick Moio, Youngstown and Canton rackets figure believed to have known more about several gangland killings than he told, apparently has met violent death himself.
A charred body found in an automobile trunk Tuesday night probably was Moio's, Stark County Coroner G. S. Shaheen said Wednesday. The man had been shot through the back of the head, Shaheen said after an autopsy had been performed on the decomposed body.
Positive identification was withheld pending a report from the FBI on fingerprints.
"I would say the killing took place five days ago," said Dr. Shaheen. "The killer apparently shot him, dumped his body in the trunk of the car, poured an inflammable liquid over it, set it afire and slammed the trunk lid."
The death may touch off renewed large-scale investigations in Northeast Ohio that had been ordered by federal authorities after bombings in Youngstown. Edward E. Hargett, head of the Cleveland FBI office, came here Wednesday.
The body was found in the trunk of the car registered to the 61-year-old Moio near a strip mine south of here.
Moio was jailed for a few weeks earlier this year for refusing to answer a state fire marshal's questions about the 1962 bombing death in Youngstown of Billy

Senate OKs Bill For U.S. To Pay All Job Training
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has passed a bill under which the federal government for the third year would pick up the whole tab for teaching skills to unemployed workers under the Manpower Training Act.
It's the first piece of legislation suggested by President Kennedy in his civil rights message to be acted on by Congress. But it involves jobs, and not strictly racial issues.
The measure was approved by a voice vote Wednesday and sent to the House where a labor subcommittee has completed hearings on it but has taken no action. Sponsors there said it would be handled in a separate bill, as in the Senate, and not tied to the big civil rights package.
The Senate bill waives the requirement for states to match federal funds in financing the training program in fiscal 1965 starting July 1, 1964. It authorizes an additional $161 million in federal funds to pick up the state's share of the $322 million outlay scheduled for that year.
Washington is paying the full cost of the program in the first two years, fiscal 1963 and 1964.

52nd Commencement Set Friday For Nurse Graduates
The public is invited to the 52nd annual commencement of the City Hospital Training School for Nurses at 8:15 p.m. Friday at the First United Presbyterian Church.
Dr. Charles A. Gerace, chairman of the commencement committee, will introduce the speaker, Dr. Carl C. Bracy, president of Mt. Union College, whose address is entitled "Shields Against Despair."
Mrs. Sarah E. Davis, director of nursing; Miss Ethelyn E. Exley, educational director, and Mrs. Henry T. Williams, chairman of the nursing school committee, will be in charge of presenting the diplomas and awards to the 15 graduates.
Dr. John A. Fraser, president of the Lions Club, will present the award given by his group. Mrs. Virginia Williams, first vice president of the Ohio State Nurses Association, will present one for the 3rd District.
The Rev. A. K. Davison, pastor, will give the invocation and benediction.
Mrs. Joan Mourat will sing "Prayer" and "Garden" and "My Task" (Ashford). Mrs. Lloyd Cunningham, organist, will play "A Fantasy of Moods" (Ford) for the prelude; "Paen Heroique" (Diggie) for the processional, and "Avonley March" (Frost) for the recessional.

Rural Vote Defeats Plans For Hospital
PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Rural taxpayers of Scioto County have overridden their city neighbors in a special election and doomed a proposed $4.5 million community hospital to a second defeat.
The vote in Wednesday's election was 8,446 for and 9,357 against a $3 million bond issue to cover most of the cost of the hospital.
The bond issue was the only item on the ballot, but it attracted 47 per cent of the registered voters—a good turnout compared with other recent elections in the county.
Voters in Portsmouth and suburban New Boston went for the hospital by a 5,325-4,367 count. But the rest of the county was 4,990-3,121 against.
The hospital proposal was defeated at last November's election when it drew a 51.3 per cent favorable vote with 55 per cent required. In the special election, a simple majority would have passed the measure.

U.S.-Wide Alert Sounded After Man Attacks Girl
WAUSEON, Ohio (AP)—A nationwide alert was out today for a man sought in the rape of a 19-year-old Bryan telephone operator in northwestern Fulton County.
Officials said the victim was heading for Fayette late Wednesday night to visit her parents on her day off when the attack occurred.
She said that she was driving on Ohio 20 about three miles west of Fayette when a car approached from the rear and its lights began flashing.
She said she stopped to see if something was wrong. A man holding a gun emerged from the car, and the attack took place.
She was not visibly injured, officials said.

When A Comedian Isn't Funny

If ever you're looking to write a funny piece about somebody, don't interview a comedian. You can get more laughs from U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson or Billy Graham.

I've known this for a long time, but still keep trying. The other evening I worked on Bill Dana, who was having dinner in his dressing room before filming another episode in his upcoming new TV series for NBC.

"Maybe we can have some fun," I suggested, "with how you decided to turn Jose Jimenez into a bellhop. Did you figure all of the other occupations on TV were already taken?"

"NO," BILL REPLIED, serious as a judge. "We decided that a hotel offers a large arena to work in and that a bellhop is a real character with three dimensions."

"Three dimensions?"

"Yes, you see, I was the elevator boy in the 'Danny Thomas Show,' but that would be too restricting. We have me doing a Walter Mitty dream bit in some shows, so I can occasionally get away from the hotel altogether."

"Do you get nervous or do anything silly before a performance?" I asked, in another desperate stab at eliciting a funny answer.

"There's no reason to be nervous. Look, I'm eating a dinner. When I did night clubs, I couldn't eat before a performance. But with people like Danny Thomas and Sheldon Leonard and Howard Lee around, I've become confident."

"YOU MEAN there's never any panic?"

"Never. We have problems, but they're all solved in a nice way. Nobody shouts. Nothing is left to chance in an organization like this one."

"How about that 7 o'clock Sunday time spot for the show? That's kind of chancy, isn't it? A show called 'Ensign O'Toole' died there last season."

"Yes, I don't like that time. Apparently someone at NBC doesn't have the faith in our show that Mort Werner has had all along. Mort, in fact, was the man who thought of putting Jose in his own series. As NBC's program head, he bought it without a pilot."

"ANY OTHER problems?" I asked, giving up completely on getting anything funny from Bill or Jose.

"Well, the NBC station in Boston hasn't bought the show yet, and something has to be done about that because that's where my mother lives," said Bill, looking at his watch and wondering aloud if he shouldn't be getting over to the studio.

As we walked over to where he would film show No. 5 before an audience, Bill said he had resisted doing his own series for a long time.

"But I have a beautiful home here now, and if one can build a nest in an elm tree, why should he be flying all over the country? If God is good, the series will go into multiple years. Then I may say, 'Gee, I wish I could go on the road!' But right now I am happy."

THAT LITTLE soliloquy of Bill's sounded almost exactly like one I heard from Danny Thomas years ago, when he got his TV series. Since then Danny has become a TV tycoon with a whole string of shows, including this new one with Bill Dana.

Sheldon Leonard, executive producer for Danny's studio, says the same thing Bill says.

"We're pragmatists here. We don't gamble. If a ship is launched and slips into the water and sinks, you know something is wrong, don't you?" Sheldon added.

Bill nodded in total agreement, and just before I left, he said, "We've done five shows now, and I can say objectively they're better than anything on TV now."

That could turn out to be the funniest line I got from the interview.

7:30, KDKA, Fair Exchange: Dorothy Walker guest her husband down on the farm, then has trouble getting him to return home after he discovers a summer theater nearby.

8, KDKA, WSTV, Perry Mason: "The Case Of The Ill-Fated Fakir." Perry is hired by a harassed business executive who wants to rid himself of a larcenous nephew.

8:30, WJAC, WTRF, WWC, Dr. Kildare: "What's God To Julius?" An incurably ill man fears death because it will leave his mentally-retarded brother alone in the world.

9:30, WJAC, WTRF, WWC, Lively Ones: Guests are Della Reese, Matt Dennis, Nellie Lutcher, Frances Faye, Page Cavanaugh, Professor Irwin Corey, Anita O'Day and the Rhythm Masters.

10, WTAE, WEWS, Premiere: "Whatever Happened To Miss Illinois?" A beauty queen finds disillusionment when she tries to break into the big time.

10, WJAC, WTRF, WWC, "The Circus": A Project 20 production tracing the "on-and-off-stage" history of the circus from its early days in ancient Crete to the present. Emmett Kelly is the storyteller.

13 Accidents Investigated For Hancock

A total of 13 accidents involving 23 vehicles and resulting in nine injuries were investigated by Hancock County sheriff's deputies during August, according to the office of Sheriff Joseph H. Manypenny at New Cumberland.

Property damage was estimated at $8,395, the sheriff said. There were no fatalities during the 31-day period.

There were only nine accidents during July.

Deputies served 194 court papers and logged 9,846 miles on cruises. They made 21 arrests and confined four to the jail. Twenty-one prisoners were released and 11 remain in custody.

Three prisoners were confined by the Weirton police and three by the West Virginia State Police. None was registered by the New Cumberland and Chester officers and none by constables.

Three juveniles were cited. One "sleeper" was accommodated.

One trip was made to the Moundsville State Penitentiary, two trips to Weston State Hospital and one trip to the Boys Industrial School at Blackwater Falls.

Parents Can Teach Good Driving Habits

You may eagerly look forward to the time your son or daughter is old enough to drive the car alone, so you no longer will have to take him where he wants or needs to go. But after your child begins to drive you may wish he were a grown-up again to drive. And if you have several Dr. Garry Meyers children, you will have some anxieties awaiting you after each begins to drive. It's wonderful if they have learned so well to take responsibility that their likelihood of accidents will be less than that of their parents.

Your child is fortunate if he pursues a drivers' training course. Abundant statistics reveal that youths who complete such a course are, on the average, far safer drivers than those who don't. But nobody knows, of course, to what degree the course attracts the kind of youth who already has a relatively high sense of responsibility or makes more responsible the youth who lacks this sense.

WHEN YOUR child begins to drive, he hardly will gain a whole-sense of responsibility all at once. How careful a driver he will become will depend largely on how much caution and self-control he has developed in earlier years.

Wise parents, therefore, begin to prepare their child for safe driving from the time this child begins to creep and toddle. I'm always amazed that the American Automobile Association and the National Safety Council so consistently ignore this obvious fact.

However, it's in the early stages of your child's driving when you may do much to impress on him caution and carefulness.

When, for example, he begins driving with you beside him, you should make sure he knows that careless or too-fast driving is a very serious matter. If a few quiet suggestions don't work, have him pull off to the side of the highway, where you will take the wheel yourself and not let him drive again for several days.

WHEN HE BEGINS driving alone, treat any objective evidence you have that he has been driving recklessly with decisiveness. Make him surrender to his driving license for an appreciable period. Don't wait for the police or court to do so.

If his license is revoked by the police or court, don't try to pull strings to help him get it back soon. Remember, too, that he can't get a driver's license or have one while he's still a minor unless you choose to sign his application.

If all parents were to stiffen up on these matters, far more youths would be safe drivers. What usually happens is that parents just exhort and jaw and go around worried and angry but do nothing decisive.

When your child begins driving, he may invent all sorts of excuses to drive the car. He may give rides to his non-driving friends. He may just drive around to many places. Especially during the early period of driving, the youth should inform his parents where he plans to go and when he can be expected to return. If he refuses to do so, why should he be allowed to continue driving?

My bulletins, "Teach Your Child the Meaning of the No" and "Educating Your Child in Responsibility," may be secured by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Sports Night Set By Kaycee Group

Plans were completed for the annual Sports Night at a meeting of Carroll Council 509, Knights of Columbus, Tuesday night at the K. of C. hall, Ralph McNicol, grand knight, presided.

The event will be held Sept. 11 beginning with a spaghetti dinner at 8 p. m. in the council rooms. Members of the coaching staff of the East Liverpool High School and junior high will be guests. Coach Robert Hedmond will give a talk on season prospects. He will also screen the Beaver Local and East Liverpool game to be played Saturday night.

Members were to paint the meeting room at St. Aloysius Parochial School Wednesday night. Next meeting is Sept. 17.

County Jail Receives

57 And Releases 55

LISBON — Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan said a total of 57 prisoners were received at the County Jail during August, in addition to 28 already confined.

Fifty-five prisoners were released during the month, one was conveyed to a state institution and a mental patient was taken to a state hospital. There were 192 visitors.

A total of 3,173 meals were served at a cost of $1,023.40, making the average daily expense per prisoner 97 cents.

Deputies served 266 papers and handled 5,320 radio transmissions and 1,199 phone calls. The sheriff's office in the Courthouse accepted eight sets of fox foot and ears for bounty. Fees totaling $650.08 was also collected.

Junior Editors Quiz on FLOATING

QUESTION: Why does an egg float in salt water but not in fresh?

ANSWER: Judd and Judy, in our picture, are using peanut butter jars to try to figure this out. They put water in the jars and dropped in the eggs. Judd noticed something. "See the water rise up as I drop in the egg! I'll bet that amount of water would be the same size as the egg which pushed it up." "That's the answer, then," said Judy. "In your jar, with fresh water, the egg is slightly heavier than the volume of water it pushed up or displaced. But I added salt to the water in my jar. That made it more dense, or heavier. So my egg is lighter than the same amount of salty water, and it has to stay near the surface; it floats!"

That's the idea, and if you look inside the egg (B) you'll understand how close the egg is in weight to the same bulk of water. A hen's egg contains 73.7 per cent water. But there is an air sack or air space inside, and this will tend to make the egg lighter. Against this must be counted the weight of the shell and materials in white and yolk. These tend to make the egg slightly heavier than its bulk in water, unless the water weight is increased through dissolving some substance such as salt.

***

FOR YOU TO DO: Try the egg experiment. If you're wondering how the boy on top is floating so very easily, the answer is he's in the Great Salt Lake of Utah. The water there is so salty, you can't sink.

70 At Outing Of Air Patrol

More than 70 attended a corn and wiener roast held Wednesday night by Civil Air Patrol Squadron 1363 at the Edward Serafy farm near Wellsville.

It was for senior members, cadets, basic cadets and their families. A hayride followed. Serafy donated the corn.

Sunday at 5 p. m., senior members and the cadets and their fathers will meet at the Johnston Airport at Hillcrest to inspect a room for use as headquarters. It is being donated by Gene Johnston.

Five cadets attended a 10-day summer encampment last week at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base near Dayton. Basic cadets attending were Triss Sutherin, Nick Harding and David Tarnovich. Second-year cadets were Carl Latham and John Graham.

They were accompanied by Lt. Gust Lardis of Steubenville.

Next regular meeting is Wednesday night at 7 at Wellsville High School. Michael Mato is sponsor.

Field Crop Meeting Will Be Held Monday

LISBON — A field crop meeting will be held Monday at 1 p. m. at Firestone Farms, east of Columbiana, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

To be viewed and discussed are 12 varieties of Sudan grass and Sudan crosses, 15 forage sorghum varieties nearing harvest, 50 corn varieties, meadow seedings and pasture maintenance programs, and soil conservation practices and related topics.

Don Graffis, agronomist at Ohio State University, will lead the discussion and answer questions. "This will be an afternoon of value to producers in the area who are interested in these crops," Myers said.

Scout Group To Meet

LISBON — The Shawnee Boy Scout District Roundtable will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the basement of the Negley Methodist Church with Cub Pack 196 and Scout Troop 96 of Negley hosts, according to Kenneth Murgidge, district executive.

Wrong Turn Puts Woman Motorist In Wrong State

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—Last Sunday morning Mrs. Hope Miles, who operates a telephone answering service here, headed her car toward the Ohio Turnpike for a trip to Breezewood, Pa.

There she was to meet her mother-in-law and pick up her children who had been visiting their grandmother in Richmond, Va. A friend was riding along to keep her company.

But Mrs. Miles turned west instead of east at the turnpike interchange and 4½ hours later was in South Bend, Ind. She turned around, headed east and got halfway to Breezewood when she stopped to telephone ahead. She learned her mother-in-law had given up and returned to Richmond with the youngsters. So, it was back home to Elyria.

On Monday another trip to Breezewood, this time with Mr. Miles driving.

How far did she travel to no avail? About 800 miles, she estimates.

How come she didn't see any signs—even when she crossed the border into Indiana?

"We were busy talking and didn't notice any signs," Mrs. Miles answered.

Adventists' Parochial School Work Delayed

Because of the delay in arrival of material for the roof of the new parochial school of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, the 13 registered pupils are attending classes in a home located near the new structure — two and a half miles north of Lisbon on Route 45.

The classes began Tuesday. Lyle E. Euler, pastor, said the school should be ready in about two weeks if there are no further delays.

Enrollment Gain Seen At Midland Schools

Midland public schools conducted their first day of classes Wednesday, with a total enrollment of 1,182, an increase of 15 over last year.

The two elementary schools showed an increase of nine for a total of 635, while the high school attendance was up six, with 547 students. Some 126 are enrolled in kindergarten, an increase of one over last year.

Orioles To Host State Convention

The Orioles Club, 141 W. 6th St., will serve as host for the Ohio State Grand Nest convention Sunday afternoon at 2.

Delegates and alternates will be present from clubs at East Akron, South Akron, Bucyrus, Marion, Zanesville and Cuyahoga Falls. Between 80 and 100 are expected.

Robert Bartow of Cuyahoga Falls, state president, will preside. New officers will be elected. The auxiliary will serve a dinner after the business session, according to Miss Jadd McVay, local secretary.

Bob Cook will play organ music.

$6,572 In Fees Paid To County Treasurer

LISBON — Carl L. Stacey, clerk of courts, reported a total of $6,572.13 was paid the county treasurer in fees collected in Common Pleas Court and the car title department during August.

The clerk paid $6,751.56 to the state treasurer from the collection of sales and use taxes, and $58,284.10 from the collection of the dealers' tax, the county receiving $657.49 for its 1 per cent poundage. The state also received $1,375.40 for car title fees.

There were 63 civil cases filed in Common Pleas Court and the title department issued 3,831 auto titles, 38 duplicate titles, 795 memorandums, 1,393 notations of liens, 1,197 cancellations of liens and 1,312 acknowledgments.

There were 407 titles issued for new vehicles valued at $1,302,931, Stacey said.

4-Day Search Ends, Body Found In River

BURLINGTON, Ky. (AP) — A four-day search for Regina Kendall, 16, ended when her body was recovered from the Ohio River opposite North Bend, Ohio, Wednesday.

Miss Kendall of Harrison, Ohio, had been missing since a pontoon boat steered by her father collided with a tugboat Sunday night. Leslie Wilson, 56, Cincinnati, also drowned.

Killed In Car Crash

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—The high-speed crash of his auto along a rural road in northeastern Clermont County Wednesday night killed Marshall Roudelush Jr., 21, of Williamsburg.

Police To Quiz Youth More In Sister Slaying

POINT PLEASANT, W. Va. (AP)—Authorities here were planning to continue questioning today Jerry L. Rorer, 16, of Point Pleasant in connection with the vicious knife slaying of his 19-year-old sister, Mary Elizabeth.

The youth was bound over for grand jury action yesterday on a murder charge by Justice of the Peace A. M. Goodwin.

State Police said Jerry admitted stabbing his sister 11 times late Tuesday evening but refused to give his motive.

The investigation so far has discussed that Jerry, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Rorer and three daughters were in the house at the time of the killing. The father said he heard a disturbance and when he went to investigate he was knocked down by someone fleeing. He then found the body of Mary Elizabeth.

One out of every 16 walks issued by American League pitchers in 1962 was intentional.

Tea Opens Club At Cumberland

NEW CUMBERLAND — A centennial tea highlighted the first fall meeting of the Senior Women's Club Tuesday night at the First United Presbyterian Church.

The meeting opened with a musical program, including organ selections by Keith Chambers and a solo by Mrs. James Carson with Mrs. Cecil Jones pianist. Brief business was conducted by Mrs. Campbell Chambers, president, when it was announced that the Panhandle District convention will be held Oct. 5 in Wellburg. Mrs. George Davis led in devotions.

It was decided the Executive Board will meet preceding the regular sessions.

Next meeting is Oct. 1 at the Swaney Memorial Library.

Babe Ruth's .303 batting average in 1923 still stands as a New York Yankee club record.
